Senate OKs Defense Fund Of $31.8 Billion

Eisenhower's Plan For Marine Cut Overridden

WASHINGTON, June 20 (AP)—The Senate voted unanimously today for a $31.822,000,000 military defense outlay after overriding President Eisenhower's plan for a 22,000-man cut in the Marine Corps by mid-1956.

The vote on the big money bill was 80-0. It came shortly after the Senate voted by a hairline 40-39 to add 46 million dollars to keep Marine Corps strength at 215,000 men instead of the 193,000 Eisenhower asked.

The House, which passed the bill earlier, must now act on the extra money voted the Marines for the fiscal year starting July 1. Army Slash Foes Yield

Plans to prevent a similar reduction in Army manpower were dropped in the face of apparent defeat. A move to increase Air Force funds also was abandoned after the Air Force recommended quantity production of two new supersonic jet fighters.

A group of Democrats, led by Sen. Symington of Missouri, former Air Force secretary, urged that the President not be followed "blindly." They foresaw great dangers to U. S. security raised by planned reductions in military ground forces. Republicans, led by Sens. Saltonstall of Massachusetts and Margaret Chase Smith of Maine, urged the Senate to accept Eisenhower's judgment on armed forces strength.

Symington Drops Proposals
Symington, who sponsored the increase in Marine Corps funds, dropped the other two amendments he had planned to introduce. One would have added 250 million dollars to prevent an $8,000,000 reduction in the Army, and the other would have provided 200 million dollars to speed up production of supersonic jet fighters.

Although Eisenhower failed to get the Marine Corps reduction from the Senate he won Senate and House approval for Army and Navy manpower cuts plus a 5,000-man increase in the Air Force.

Of the funds approved today, the Army would get $7,330,000,000, the Navy and Marines $9,071,000,000, the Air Force $14,739,000,000. The remainder would be for inter-service activity.

Biggest Liner Strike Target

LONDON, June 20 (AP)—Striking seamen made plans tonight to draw off the crew of the Queen Elizabeth—the world's biggest liner—before she can sail for New York Thursday.

"We must stand together," said Ken Barber, chairman of the wildcat strike at Southampton, "and get the Lizzie (Queen Elizabeth) boys in."

The walkout, entering its third week, has idled 11 liners in Southampton and Liverpool.

The strikers—most of them stewards and members of the catering staff of some of Britain's biggest and best-known transatlantic vessels—want a 44-hour week, higher allowances when they are ashore and better living and working conditions when they are at sea.

Godfrey Resigns Navy Reserve Commission

WASHINGTON, June 20 (AP)—Arthur Godfrey, radio-television personality, has resigned his commission in the naval reserve.

A Navy spokesman said today the resignation took effect last week.

Godfrey told the Navy he felt he could serve all military departments and the country better if he had no official connection with any branch of the defense establishment.

ARGENTINE FIGURE—Gen. Franklin Lucero (above), Argentina's new armed forces chief, pressed grimly ahead yesterday with efforts to return revolt-bloodied Argentina to normal. Lucero was given full charge of maintaining order. He called on the nation to stamp out "false alarms" disturbing efforts to restore peace.

U.S. Steel Corp. Will Offer Union Wage Increase

PITTSBURGH, June 20 (AP)—U.S. Steel Corp. today promised the CIO United Steelworkers a wage increase which will take into consideration "the cooperation, loyalty and productivity of workers."

Vice president John Stephens, head negotiator for Big Steel, said the offer will be made this week at a meeting still to be scheduled.

Top union officials have speculated the corporation will submit an offer of 7½ cents more an hour. President David J. McDonald and secretary treasurer I. W. Abel said such an offer would be rejected.

Deadline June 30
Stephens declined to discuss the size of the offer but said "we hope it will result in a speedy and mutual settlement of our negotiations."

Deadline for a wage settlement is June 30. The union will be free to call a strike if an agreement is not reached by then.

McDonald has said the union wants a "substantial wage hike," but he has never publicly spelled out the demands.

Both McDonald and Stephens met newsmen in a joint conference after a two-hour meeting. They were friendly and cordial.

McDonald Voices Hope
McDonald said he hoped the offer "will be one we can submit to the Wage Policy Committee and one which it can accept."

The wage policy committee must approve all union matters pertaining to contracts and wages.

The union is negotiating for a wage hike for 600,000 members employed by 96 basic steel producing firms and iron ore mining companies. The workers now earn an average of $2.33 an hour.

Ike To Sign Trade Bill

SAN FRANCISCO, June 20 (AP)—President Eisenhower tomorrow will sign the bill extending the reciprocal Trade Act for three years. It also provides for a gradual reduction of tariffs over that period.

This was the ordeal of Air Force Lt. Roland W. Parks, of the Air Force, set forth in diary form in a copyrighted article in U. S. News & World Report magazine. The story winds up with a trumped-up trial, an order of deportation, and freedom along with three other American fliers on May 31.

After hour on hour of questioning for day after day, coupled with loss of sleep and a low diet, Parks relates, "I could feel my resistance weakening."

"Solitary confinement," he says, "was my worst ordeal."

House Receives Diluted Version Of Reserve Bill

WASHINGTON, June 20 (AP)—A highly diluted military reserve bill was introduced in the House by Rep. Vinson (D-Ga.) today as a substitute for a stalled administration measure.

The Vinson version drops the controversial provision for a special six-months training corps for teen-age volunteers, which was the heart of the administration plan.

It also removes proposed authority for the President to call up a maximum of one million reservists without consulting Congress.

No Antisegregation Rider

And it eliminates a controversial National Guard section, to which an antisegregation rider was attached by Rep. Powell (D-NY), one of the three Negroes in the House. It was this rider which caused the original bill to be sidetracked.

The House GOP leader, Rep. Martin of Massachusetts, said he approved of the new bill and added, "I think it will be passed."

The original bill provided for a two-million-man expansion of the organized reserves by 1960, largely through the volunteer training program. After their six months training, the volunteers would have been required to spend 7½ years in the reserves.

Aimed At 2,900,000 Force

The Vinson bill is aimed at building a ready reserve force of 2,900,000. Under present law, the reserve is limited to 1,500,000 men. Vinson said that his measure would produce a strong, virile reserve made up of men who, for the most part, will have had at least two years of active duty.

In other words, the reserves under the Vinson bill would be drawn mostly from the ranks of servicemen who completed their tours of active duty instead of from young trainees.

The Vinson bill would also reduce the total military obligation for all service men from eight years to six.

Transit Walkout Hits Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES, June 20 (AP)—A million Los Angeles Transit Lines patrons improvised new ways to get to and from work today as busmen—and motormen—took a holiday by striking.

The 2,600 workers by voice vote rejected their negotiators' recommendation that the company's latest offer be accepted. Formal vote is slated Friday, but officials of the AFL-Amalgamated Assn. of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees of America see little chance of a switch.

The company offered to step up pay from $1.91 an hour to $2.03 in three steps over a two-year period. The union has demanded a flat 20-cent increase to $2.11 for top operators.

Although the walkout had been authorized June 11, the company's last-minute offer last night left many persons with the hope they would have their usual transportation to work.

But the predawn strike decision left hundreds waiting futilely on their customary corners. Idled were 1,247 buses and streetcars.

Police Chief Is Slain In Water Line Dispute
JACKSONVILLE, Ala., June 20 (AP)—Police Chief E. E. Whiteside, 51, was shot to death today in a dispute over a water main.

Robert E. Lee Dentman, 41-year-old storekeeper, was charged with the shooting. Sheriff Roy C. Snead arrested Dentman who was taken to Calhoun County Jail at Anniston.

Snead said Whiteside was slain when he went to Dentman's store shortly after three waterworks employees had been driven off by the storekeeper. They were attempting to locate an old water main which was to be replaced.

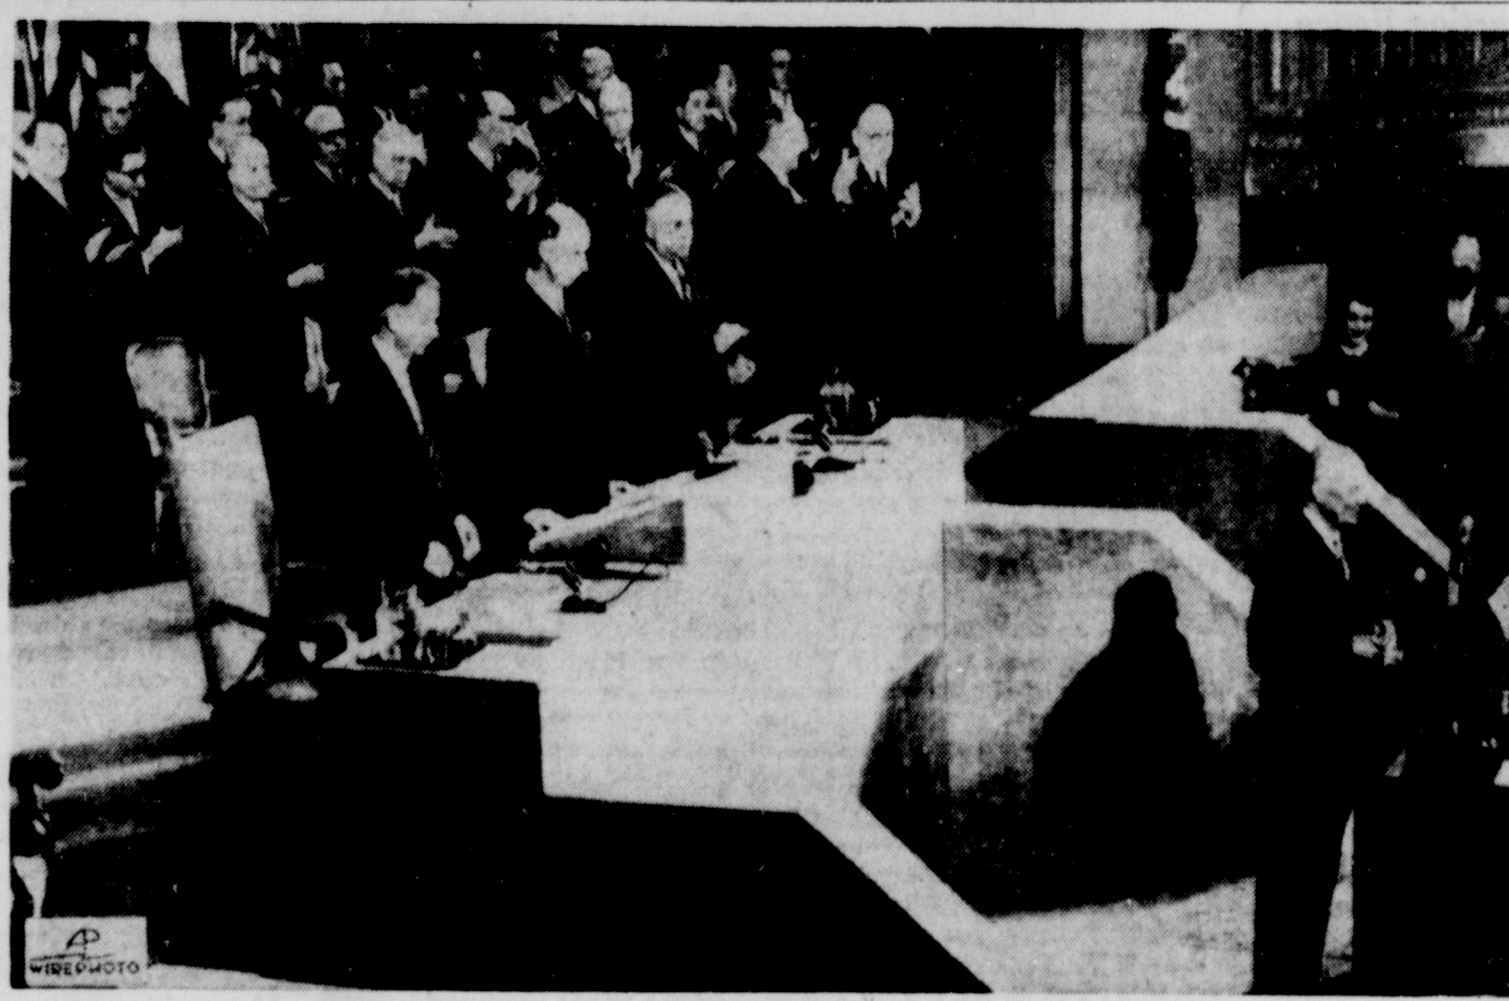

The employees, Roy Wilkerson, Roy (Tot) Turner and William Barnwell, reported the affair to Whiteside, who returned with them to Dentman's store.

One shot was fired, it struck Whiteside in the heart.

Judge To Take Rest

DENTON, Md., June 20 (AP)—Judge J. DeWeese Carter, 51, of Maryland's 2nd Judicial Circuit, has been ordered to take a two-month rest.

Judge Carter, who sits in Caroline and Talbot Counties, collapsed Sunday from exhaustion and overwork. His family said a doctor ordered a two-month rest in a hospital.

Eisenhower Applauded By U. N. Diplomats

7½% Federal Pay Increase Voted 370-3 By House

WASHINGTON, June 20 (AP)—The House voted overwhelmingly today to raise the pay of more than a million classified government workers 7½ per cent. The Senate has passed a 10 per cent boost.

The bill now goes to a Senate-House Conference Committee to compromise the difference. Many House members said they expect the final figure to be 8 per cent.

There was no direct indication of how big a pay hike President Eisenhower would approve, although both figures were higher than the 5 per cent he recommended. In today's brief debate, Rep. St. George (R-NY) said a 7½ per cent bill would be signed into law.

Three Republicans Vote No
The House vote on the pay raise was 370-3, with three Republicans against it—Reps. Taber of New York and Mason and Vursell of Illinois.

While there was no floor fight over the amount of the boost, Rep. Moss (D-Calif.), who led an unsuccessful fight in committee for an 8 per cent hike, said his forces were counting on a compromise at that figure.

Moss reminded the House that Congress voted itself a 50 per cent raise and gave career military personnel incentive pay raises ranging from 6 to 25 per cent.

Retrospective To March 1
The measure would apply to 983,057 Civil Service workers and some 90,000 employees of Congress and the judicial branch of government, the Department of Medicine and Surgery of the Veterans Administration, the foreign service and agencies whose pay is fixed by administrative action.

The new pay figure would be retroactive to March 1. As voted by the House, the increase would cost an estimated 325 million dollars a year. It would round out a series of pay boosts for most federal employees voted by Congress this year.

Refugees See Junta Set Up In Argentina

BUENOS AIRES, June 20 (AP)—Most of Buenos Aires today had an outward air of normalcy—under strict control of the armed forces. The military were instructed by their supreme commander, Army Minister Maj. Gen. Franklin Lucero, to maintain order and suppress rumor-mongering.

The Argentine state radio announced that President Juan D. Peron had resumed work, attending to his usual official tasks in collaboration with his principal associates.

(News dispatches from Argentina have been subjected to censorship since last Thursday's revolt by navy fliers and marines.

Air Base Shot Up By Jet's Rockets
PORTLAND, Ore., June 20 (AP)—A parked Air Force jet fighter plane suddenly began spewing rockets today, and shot up the Portland air base.

No injuries were reported, but damage was estimated by the Air Force at two million dollars. Twelve practice rockets flew over the area, destroying two other jet fighters, damaging two more planes and hitting a house a mile away from the base.

An Air Force spokesman said the 3½-foot-long rockets had no war heads, but two of them hit F89 jets in the fuel tanks, causing fires that destroyed the two planes. Another rocket ripped through a C46 transport with minor damage resulting.

Clouds Hamper Eclipse Viewers
COLOMBO, Ceylon, June 20 (AP)—The sun was hidden by the moon over a great stretch of South Asia today in probably the longest total eclipse in 1,238 years—but few of the scientists gathered in Ceylon could see it.

Heavy rain clouds hung over most of the area from which the eclipse might have been observed, although the scientific observation posts had been set up in what is statistically the driest part of north central Ceylon.

Only a team from Harvard University could report even fairly satisfactory viewing conditions. This team took photographs of the infrared spectrum of the sun in eclipse. Other American and Swiss, French, German, British and Japanese scientists said their instruments could record nothing.

The total eclipse lasted 7 minutes, 7.8 seconds at the center of its path. In the Philippines it was 7 minutes, 4 seconds. The 18-mile-wide band of darkness started in the Indian Ocean at dawn and advanced 24 miles a minute over about 1,276,000 square miles of the earth's surface, including Ceylon, Thailand, Indochina and the Philippines.

In the 20th Century only four total eclipses have lasted longer than 7 minutes and astronomers find no record of any longer than today's since 717 A.D. The average length is less than three minutes.

Nine-Day NATO Air Maneuvers Launched
TRIEN, Germany, June 20 (AP)—Hundreds of Allied jet planes converged on U. S. bases in France and West Germany today for the biggest air maneuver in NATO history.

The nine-day exercise opened with the dispersal of NATO planes to maneuver bases. The purpose is to test NATO air and ground units in operational procedures under simulated war conditions.

The main test—a mock atomic attack—was set for Thursday.

Mrs. Hobby Says Scheele Liable In Salk Program

WASHINGTON, June 20 (AP)—Secretary of Welfare Hobby tonight put responsibility for federal actions in the Salk polio vaccine situation on Surgeon Gen. Leonard A. Scheele, but said she was not dissatisfied with the way he handled things.

She said the law on control of biologicals such as the Salk vaccine "charges the Public Health Service and not the secretary" with such responsibility.

She also said she did not think it would be known "whether or if" there was any negligence in the Public Health Service in connection with the vaccine until "the answer to the Cutter problem is known."

Secretary Not Responsible
She referred to development of polio in children who received vaccine made by Cutter Laboratories of Berkeley, Calif.

On a radio show—MBS—"Reporters Roundup"—Mrs. Hobby was asked if, in retrospect, she has any apologies about the way the off-again, on-again, almost-stalled program has been handled, and if in looking back she wished she had done anything differently.

"There is nothing I could have done differently," Mrs. Hobby answered. "The law charged the Public Health Service and not the secretary." The Health Service headed by Dr. Scheele is an agency of the Welfare Department, headed by Mrs. Hobby.

Has No Apologies
She further stated that under the law, vaccine manufacturers are licensed upon recommendation of the surgeon general.

"I have no apologies in any sense for licensing on the 12th," she continued, referring to her action on April 12 putting Cutter and five other manufacturers in the field.

She said "the Cutter incident" raised a question later about safety of the vaccine, and the investigation of that problem hasn't been finished.

Rhonda Fleming And Rome Film Makers In Nudity Row
ROME, June 20 (AP)—A transatlantic squabble over nudity broke out today between Hollywood's shapely Rhonda Fleming and Italian moviemakers.

Rhonda touched off a fire as bright as her own red hair when an interview she gave AP reporter James Bacon in Hollywood hit the Italian headlines. Just back from five months of Italian movie making, she said:

"I play a nude swimming scene myself. I didn't worry about it because it was all shot just like we do in Hollywood."

"Everybody was barred from the set. The cameras were hidden behind some trees—at too great a distance to see anything. In fact everything was so far removed and so proper that I didn't even bother to wear the usual flesh-colored bathing suit."

Her director here, Carlo Lodovico Bragaglia, read that and blew up.

"Absolutely false," he said. Rome.

Lasting Peace Quest Pledged By President

Devotion To Charter 'Basis' For Success Of Big Four Meeting

SAN FRANCISCO, June 20 (AP)—President Eisenhower solemnly promised the United Nations today that at the Big Four conference next month he will work toward lasting peace—"a glorious way of life" free of threats of atomic holocaust.

Opening the U. N. 10th anniversary ceremonies in the golden gliter of the San Francisco Opera House, birthplace of the United Nations, the President also urged the member countries to join in striving anew for such a way of life.

In it, he said, "the atom, dedicated once as man's slayer, will become his most productive servant."

Looking ahead to the July 18 meeting of the Big Four chiefs of state in Geneva, Eisenhower foresaw it taking place in "a season of high hope for the world."

But in his address at the Opera House today he again declined to

Big 4 Foreign Ministers Meet

SAN FRANCISCO, June 20 (AP)—The Big Four foreign ministers met tonight in a brownstone mansion high atop Nob Hill to discuss plans for the "summit" meeting of the chiefs of state in Geneva next month.

make any flat prediction whether Russia will join in a start toward "dismantling the terrible apparatus" of war.

Molotov Grim
Behind the President, seated among veteran participants of the U. N. organization here 10 years ago, sat Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, grim and unsmiling under the glare of the floor lights.

The United States, Eisenhower promised, "will leave no stone unturned to work for peace."

He added: "We shall reject no method, however novel, that holds out any hope, however faint, for a just and lasting peace."

The President dealt with matters which could come up in Western discussions with Russia at the Big Four meeting, but he did not mention them in that connection.

He said: "1. That (quite likely with the Soviet-dominated satellites in mind) the people of every nation have 'the inherent right' to choose the kind of government under which they want to live, and 'the right to select in full freedom the individuals who conduct that government.'"

He drew moderate applause at this remark, but Molotov sat impassive.

Molotov was not wearing translation headphones, so it was not known whether he understood what the President had said.

Non-Aggression Hope
2. He said that the United States and, he believes, a majority of all nations, are united in the hope "that every government will abstain from itself attempting, or aiding others to attempt, the subversion, coercion, infiltration or destruction of other governments..."

Eisenhower maintained his cautious attitude about the "summit" conference, however, saying: "Within a month (July 18-21 at Geneva) there will be a four-power conference of the heads of government. Whether or not we shall then reach the initial decisions that will start dismantling the terrible apparatus of fear and mistrust and weapons erected since the end of World War II I do not know."

Then he went on to say that the basis for success of the meeting of the Big Four—Eisenhower, Prime Minister Eden of Great Britain, Premier Faure of France, (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)

Worth Clark, Former Idaho Senator, Dies

LOS ANGELES, June 20 (AP)—A heart attack as he was preparing for bed last night killed former U. S. Sen. D. Worth Clark of Idaho.

The 53-year-old attorney, who moved here from Boise with his wife last November, suddenly fell forward to a hall floor of his apartment. Dr. Samuel P. Benbrook said death was immediate and apparently due to massive coronary thrombosis.

Clark, an attorney, moved here with his wife, Mrs. Virgil Irwin Clark, from Boise last November and was preparing to take the California bar examination in August.

Turnabout Witness Given Jail Sentence

Mrs. Natvig Faces Up To 2 Years In Prison

WASHINGTON, June 20 (AP)—Turnabout witness Marie Natvig was jailed today under a sentence of eight months to two years for lying under oath in the Federal Communication Commission's Edward Lamb hearing.

U. S. Dist. Judge Alexander Holtzoff fixed what he called a "moderate" sentence on the gray-haired 51-year-old Miami Beach grandmother and divorcee. The judge turned down pleas by Mrs. Natvig's attorney that she be given a sentence calling only for a probation, and that she be allowed to remain free on bond pending an appeal.

Mrs. Natvig, wearing a brown cotton skirt, white and brown striped blouse and tiny yellow hat, merely shook her head when the judge asked whether she had anything to say. Judge Holtzoff said Mrs. Natvig showed "so little regard for the truth" as to constitute a "danger to the community."

"Perjury undermines the integrity of the administration of justice," he commented.

Defense counsel John D. Dwyer noted today that in opening statements to the jury, which convicted Mrs. Natvig a month ago on three perjury charges, he had raised the question of her "mental capacity" to give willfully false testimony.

"You offered no testimony on the question of mental capacity," the judge replied.

Mrs. Natvig was a witness last fall at an FCC hearing on Lamb's application for renewal of his license for a television station at Erie, Pa. She testified that she was a Communist in Ohio in the 1930s and knew Lamb in that connection.

In February, when she was recalled to the witness stand for further cross-examination, she said her previous testimony about Lamb was a lie.

Lamb himself has categorically denied any Communist sympathies. Mrs. Natvig said she had been coerced into giving the original testimony by Walter R. Powell Jr., a former commission attorney. Powell called this "baseless, unfounded, untrue and malicious."

The trial did not deal with the truth or falsity of what Mrs. Natvig said about herself and Lamb.

Lasting Peace

and Premier Bulganin of Russia—is simply put:

"It is that every individual at that meeting be loyal to the spirit of the United Nations and dedicated to the principles of its charter."

"I can solemnly pledge to you here—and to all of the men and women of the world who may read or hear my words—that those who represent the United States will strive to be thus loyal, thus dedicated."

Shortly before Eisenhower made his appearance, the foreign ministers of the United States, Britain and France held a last-minute closed meeting on the Big Four parleys.

As the President spoke, efforts were reported under way in the Western and Soviet camps to have this anniversary meeting concluded with a declaration of principles to be known as the San Francisco Declaration of 1955.

Carlos P. Romulo, delegate of the Philippines and one of the signers of the Charter in 1945, is drafting a declaration which he hopes will be acceptable to everyone. This declaration would affirm once more the devotion of the 60 nations taking part in this celebration to the Charter and would pledge them to work for peace.

Diplomatic quarters reported that Molotov is pressing for adoption of a declaration by the meeting, apparently with the idea of pledging the U. N. again for peace.

NAACP Praises Ike For Views On Segregation

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 20 (AP)—The National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People said today it owes President Eisenhower a "debt of gratitude" for "his stand against racial segregation."

In an annual report made public today, the Negro group added, however, "that praise extends to very few of his own political party," the Republicans.

As for the Democrats, the NAACP said the party should "abandon its present surrender on major civil rights issues and moral principles (made) in an effort to woo the most reactionary elements in the South."

The NAACP reviewed its activity in the past year and charted future plans in the report. The group's annual convention opens here tomorrow night.

In the annual report, the NAACP said it hopes President Eisenhower and the Republican party "will recognize the need for:

1. A federal fair employment practices law "with full enforcement powers."

2. The inclusion in "all appropriate bills of amendments to prohibit expenditure of any federal funds for segregation or discrimination."

3. Legislation against "Jim Crow in travel."

4. "More vigorous action against the bigots of such organizations as the White Citizens Councils now being formed in Mississippi and Alabama to put economic and other pressures upon Negroes who demand full citizenship rights."

Girl, 14, Drowns In Potomac River

POOLESVILLE, Md., June 20 (AP)—Dorothy Hunt, 14, drowned today while swimming in the Potomac River at nearby Edward's Ferry.

Firemen from several Montgomery County departments recovered the body about two hours after the girl disappeared. She and five other girls were swimming in the river, firemen said, when she got caught in a swift current and was pulled under.

Dorothy was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Hunt. Hunt is a dairyman on a farm near this Montgomery County community.

Bingo Is Outlawed In 5th Navy District

NORFOLK, Va., June 20 (AP)—The triumphant cry of "bingo!" will be heard no more at Navy clubs in the Fifth Naval District.

Under a new policy the game has been outlawed at Navy installations here and throughout the five-state Fifth Naval District. An order implementing the policy was issued Friday by Rear Adm. I. N. Kiland, district commandant.

The Navy's anti-bingo policy follows an April 29 opinion of the U. S. attorney-general which held that "any federal regulations which would purport to permit the operation of bingo on military reservations would be invalid and void—at least in those states where such activity is prohibited by local law."

Kiland's implementing order ended bingo and all games of chance at Navy installations in Virginia, West Virginia, Maryland, North Carolina and Kentucky.

Probe Of Girls' Slaying Turns To New Jersey

WASHINGTON, June 20 (AP)—Two Prince Georges County (Md.) detectives left this afternoon for an undisclosed spot in New Jersey to question a person described as a teen-age boy friend of one of two girls shot to death last week in a picnic grove near College Park, Md.

The boy's name or other details of this latest lead in the double shooting were not revealed. Lt. Lee Pumphey and Sgt. Richard A. Pearson went to New Jersey.

The search, meanwhile, continued for the weapon used in last Wednesday's shooting of school girls Nancy Marie Shonette, 16, and Michael Ryan, 14. Two county detectives flew a light plane on a survey of rooftops in the area. A thorough search already has been made of the ground and trees in the picnic park section.

Capt. Charles N. Thomsen, Prince Georges chief of detectives, led the detectives in the plane scanned rooftops looking for the murder weapon, but their search was fruitless.

Police also planned to drain a lake near Northwestern High School, toward which the girls were walking when they were shot. No explanation was given as to why the lake was to be drained.

Police Chief George Panagoulis also said today that police are considering the possibility that two persons may have been involved in the shootings.

State's Segregation Laws Null And Void, Sybert Says

BALTIMORE, June 20 (AP)—In his first formal opinion on the Supreme Court's recent segregation ruling Atty. Gen. C. Ferdinand Sybert today left no doubt but that the integration order applies to Maryland.

Maryland's laws requiring segregation are now null and void, Sybert said.

He quoted the language of the Supreme Court decision that "all provisions of Federal, State or local law requiring or permitting such discrimination must yield to this principle (that racial segregation is unconstitutional)."

"It would necessarily follow," the opinion said, "that since the Constitution of the United States is the supreme law of the land, all constitutional and legislative acts of Maryland requiring segregation in the public schools in the State of Maryland are unconstitutional, and hence must be treated as nullities."

Sybert also rejected an argument that the Supreme Court decisions did not apply to Maryland because this State was not a party to the five consolidated cases on which the court ruled.

The opinion added: "Obviously, in the event that there is a refusal to comply with the law, the mechanics of the relief might be different in the case of the State of Maryland from that granted in the case of one of the other states which was a defendant in one of the five consolidated cases in which the Supreme Court acted."

"However, the law with respect

Salt Deposited By Hurricane Affects Farms

CAMBRIDGE, Md., June 20 (AP)—Hurricane Hazel, which blew through Maryland last October, is still rubbing salt in the agricultural wounds she caused.

In lower Dorchester County dry soil quickly soaked up salty waters of the Chesapeake Bay when Hazel kicked up high tides.

Rainfalls haven't been enough to wash away the salt and this has affected farming in the area.

Dr. Jackson Hester, who did research in Virginia on salt damage after a 1937 hurricane, said conditions in lower Dorchester were the worst he has ever seen. But he said, the situation "is not desperate if farmers will treat their soil."

Hester said crops will not grow in soils having more than 3,000 pounds of salt per acre. Hazel brought as much as 10,000 pounds an acre on some lower Dorchester land.

Hester said farmers must use lime superphosphate and gypsum but cautioned too much may increase salts in dry soil.

Side dressing when plants are mature was suggested instead of fertilizing at planting time.

One farmer using this method reported a 90 percent of normal crop of oats from a field that tested 3,200 pounds of salt per acre.

Diphtheria Strikes Five In One Family

CAMBRIDGE, June 20 (AP)—While two of their brothers remained on the critical list at City Hospitals in Baltimore, two more children of Robert Lee Thompson of nearby Secretary were listed today as diphtheria victims.

That makes a total of five of Thompson's seven children who have contracted the disease.

Dr. Lawrence Maryanov, private physician who has been caring for the family, said both Helen Thompson, 5, and Robert, 9, have mild cases of the disease. They will remain home with 8-year-old brother Willie.

Two other Thompson children, Ruben, 6, and Brannie, 12, have been in the Baltimore hospital since Friday. Attendants there today said the children remain on the critical list.

Industrywide Bargaining With UAW Urged By Ford

DETROIT, June 20 (AP)—Henry Ford II said today he would like to see all the auto manufacturers bargain together with the CIO United Auto Workers.

"I am very much in favor of industrywide bargaining," the president of the Ford Motor Co. said in an interview with the Detroit News.

"I can't say right now how it would turn out in the auto industry," Ford continued, "but I would like to see it."

The 37-year-old industrialist, whose company only recently agreed in bargaining with the UAW to establish a guaranteed wage plan, added he saw no reason why economic issues in the auto industry could not be bargained at a national level, with local plant problems left to individual negotiations.

"I know a lot of people have said that industrywide bargaining in our business is implausible,"

Ford continued, "but how can they say that when it's never been tried?"

"I think everything should be tried before we say that it can't work."

Ford said indications were that General Motors Corp. was against industrywide bargaining, while Chrysler Corp. might be for it. He emphasized, however, he spoke for neither.

"I have talked with executives of the other companies about it," Ford said. "But the talks always have been on an informal basis. We have never sat down for a formal session on the matter."

General Motors followed Ford in granting a guaranteed wage plan.

World's only gas with OCTANE BONUS!

No octane wasted fighting lead deposits

Some refiners have found that the cheapest and easiest way to increase octane rating is by adding lead. But lead in an automobile engine can leave harmful deposits. And lead deposits waste power, cut down usable octane on the road where it counts. That calls for higher octane at the pump. And still more lead. Except in the case of the new Amoco-Gas!

STANDARD ONE-CYLINDER LABORATORY TEST ENGINE

This universal "Octane Rating" engine accurately determines the octane rating of every gas—in the laboratory. It does not measure the harmful effects of lead deposits in an automobile engine.

It tells only half of octane story

THE REAL TEST ENGINE IS IN YOUR CAR ON THE ROAD!

You can only measure the usable octane value of any gas in an automobile engine in use. Here leaded gas can cause metallic deposits that waste octane. All the octane value of new no-lead Amoco-Gas is usable road octane—none is wasted. You get an Octane Bonus on the road.

Your car engine tells whole story

A great new Amoco-Gas with an Octane BONUS

It's a white, unleaded gas, made by the patented Ultraforming Process—with such natural high octane that it doesn't need lead!

Every bit of octane-energy in the new Amoco-Gas is used to run your car. Because every drop can burn. No lead deposits form to waste octane—it all reaches the road. The result is an exclusive Octane Bonus that no gas containing lead can match.

REMEMBER THIS! No matter how much octane you pay for at the pump, the only octane you get is the usable octane that reaches the road! With unleaded Amoco-Gas, that's bonus octane... worth trying, worth buying! Come in—try something wonderful!

The white gas with the Octane BONUS!

Bonus Mileage—because it contains no lead!

They're making it the BIGGEST-SELLING BUICK OF ALL TIME

Maybe you'd better see for yourself why folks just won't do without this great car.

PEOPLE say success makes success—but we say people make success, and how!

It's people—just like you—who are snowballing Buick sales this year to an all-time peak.

It's people—just like your neighbors down the street—who are snapping up these gorgeous new Buicks almost as fast as we get them from the factory, and causing Buick production to climb to new levels every month, to handle the unparalleled demand.

And it's people—just about from every walk of life—who keep Buick sales soaring without letup—and who have moved Buick more solidly than ever into the charmed circle of America's top best sellers.

But why? Why this phenomenal swing to Buick on the part of people who can choose any new car? Because Buick's a buy—definitely.

And because it's a bold beauty that catches the eye and holds it—that's for sure.

And certainly because it's supremely level of ride—and a sweet joy to handle—and a mighty bundle of high-voltage V8 power to melt away the miles and the high hills.

But most of all, because Buick this year is a performer like no earth-bound vehicle ever was before...

Because Buick—and only Buick—has the airplane-principled magic of Variable Pitch "Dynaflo" where you switch the pitch for big gas savings in cruising—or for whip-quick getaway response and acceleration when you need a sudden safety-surge.

It's sheer thrill, and pure pleasure, and a big boon to your gasoline budget—and you really ought to try it.

Come visit us soon—this week, at the latest—and see for yourself why this is the car folks just won't do without—the biggest-selling Buick of all time.

IN THE DAYS OF DAVY CROCKETT

William (guess we ought to call him "Buck" like his pals did) Travis liked to lie before the fire evenings, after home-work was done, and imagine pictures in the flames of Indians and wild beasts being chased by fighting frontiersmen like Davy Crockett.

Buck Travis had heard of some of Crockett's great deeds from travelers who came down from Tennessee. A story Buck liked best was how Davy, when only 12, trekked home alone from Maryland, living off the land and sleeping under ledges when it rained.

Davy's famous feats as a bear hunter made young Travis kind of sorrowful—for it seemed to him the world where he lived had become fresh out of such wild beasts to hunt and trap. Sometimes at night he'd dream he was hunting huge bears in bunches, by himself.

Told By AN OLD SCOUT

In Buck's mind was another thrilling picture—of Davy Crockett fighting the Red Stick Indians, knocking down redskins as though they were bowling pins. Buck used to wonder what he'd do if he ever met his hero, Davy. Fall down in a faint, he guessed.

NEXT—Buck Travis follows the road of pioneers to Texas.

A twin-engine Beechcraft plane piloted by O. S. Jenkins, of Wings, Inc., landed at the local field with A. L. Jones, eastern representative of the Sears Foundation; L. D. Odhuier, director of the Pennsylvania Chain Store Council; Dr. W. R. Gordon, extension sociologist at Penn State University; Dr. G. P. Kerr, Pittsburgh, and Rev. S. L. Snyder, executive director of the Town and Country Church Development Program.

The men will visit the church in LaVale this morning to make a check of its condition. The building was formerly operated as a bowling alley establish-

A cash award will be given the LaVale church as the state winner, and today's inspection will determine its position in national competition.

The competition covered a 12-month period extending from April 1, 1954, to March 31, 1955. The LaVale Baptist pastor, Rev. C. F. Frith, said the program attempts to gauge activities of each rural church on three levels as it attempts to meet the needs of the church, the community and the world.

Size is not the determining factor, Rev. Frith explained. His church has a membership of 235 and a Sunday School enrollment of 350. However, it was found that his church is doing a good job on the church, community and world levels.

Begun as a Sunday School mission under the sponsorship of the Second Baptist Church, the LaVale Baptist observed its fifth anniversary as a church in May.

Rev. Frith, first pastor of the suburban church, came here in November, 1950.

August Wedding Is Announced

KEYSER — Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow W. Kiesecker announced the coming marriage of their daughter, Rosalie Ann, to Dona Bardon Shreve, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alston B. Shreve, Smoke Hole, W. Va. Miss Kiesecker is a graduate of Keyser High School, class of 1955. Mr. Shreve graduated from Franklin High School, and after serving with the Armed Forces, he attended Potomac State College, and is now attending West Virginia University.

The wedding is set for Sunday, August 28. The newlyweds will reside in Morgantown.

Class Recesses Until Fall

The Baraca Bible Class of St. Luke's Lutheran Church planned a picnic for August and recessed for the summer. The monthly meeting was held in the social hall recently. Mrs. Pearl Metz presided. Miss Ella Smith had the Scripture and prayer.

It was decided to have the picnic in Constitution Park sometime in August. Mrs. Alma Schlunt was appointed in charge of devotions when meetings resume in September.

Concluding the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. Margaret Love, Mrs. Metz, Mrs. Schlunt, Mrs. Leila Fisher and Mrs. Gertrude Hartung of Group 1.

Plans Card Party

The Sacred Heart Hospital Auxiliary will sponsor a card party to-day at 8:15 p. m. in the St. Patrick's Social Center for the benefit of the hospital. Prizes will be awarded and refreshments served. Players are to bring their own cards.

A little vinegar poured into a pan in which onions have been cooked will remove the onion odor.

Union Grove Club Has Supper

Members of the Union Grove Homemakers Club were thanked by Mrs. John Hardinger for their assistance in sending six girls to camp week.

The meeting was held in the form of a covered dish supper at the club house recently. Mrs. Grant Hicks, Mrs. Hardinger and Mrs. Charles Gillum were hostesses.

Mrs. Hicks presided and roll call was answered with "safety hints while traveling." Mrs. Steve Bowling led the group in singing "America the Beautiful," after which prayer was said by Mrs. Ruth Thomas.

A discussion on the theme, "Hazards in the Home," was led by Mrs. Joseph Franklin. Using a model of a house, she told that alertness and the elimination of hazards are most essential to good housekeeping. Each member was given a house safety check list and urged to make a thorough inspection of her home.

A report on the "Family Life" program planning meeting was given by Mrs. Helen White.

Members were asked to bring ideas for the theme booth to the next meeting.

The committee for the RWSC graduate are Mrs. Richard Douglass, Mrs. Franklin, Mrs. Albert Windish and Mrs. Hicks.

In concluding the group sang.

Brick Yard Employee Wins Compensation

Compensation of $12,500 for becoming permanently totally disabled has been awarded a brick yard worker who had accidentally breathed weed killer that he was spraying around the Big Savage Refractories at Zihlman.

Milton Gerson, attorney for George Russell Aldridge, said the award was made by the State Industrial Accident Commission and it will be paid by the Big Savage Refractories, and the State Accident Fund.

Gerson also reported that the State Accident Commission awarded Raymond Geary of Borden Shaft $12,500, but this has been appealed to Allegany County Circuit Court by the State Accident Fund, the insurer. Geary was also a Big Savage Refractories worker.

In the Aldridge case, testimony presented before the commission revealed that on September 8, 1954, the resident of National was transferred from his regular job.

He was given the duty of spraying weeds, with a weed killing solution. During the process, he accidentally inhaled some of the spray solution. As a result, Gerson stated, his lungs were affected to the extent he could not hold his regular job.

The Geary case began before the Medical Board of the commission. Gerson declared Geary had contracted silicosis while working in the fire clay mine of Big Savage Refractories.

The Medical Board ruled that Geary had some evidence of silicosis, but only awarded him $1,000 on the grounds the board members felt he had a partial disability.

Gerson appealed this decision to the State Industrial Accident Commission, with the commission reversing the medical board and awarding Geary $12,500 for total disability.

However, the State Accident Fund entered the case by filing an appeal of the commission's decision. The hearing on the appeal will probably be held in July in Allegany County Circuit Court.

Mayor Eves Urges More Beards Here

Mayor Roy W. Eves yesterday urged local men to unite behind the "Brothers of the Brush" movement to advertise Cumberland's bicentennial celebration.

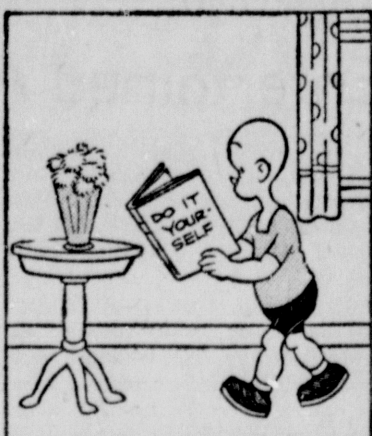

The "Brothers" are growing face and chin "follage" (whiskers to you) from now until the August celebration is over.

The Mayor, who yesterday had the start of a nice beard, urged male citizens "not to let the Mayor carry the load."

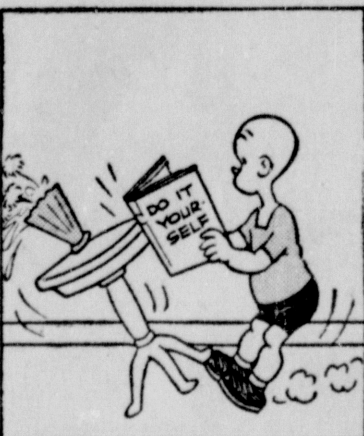

The only excuse he's heard so far, the Mayor said, is that the women-folk don't like beards.

"We must decide whether to be 'Brothers' or members of the hen-pecked tribe," the Mayor concluded.

Council Names Rec Employees

Additional seasonal employees in the Recreation Department have been approved by the Mayor and Council.

Council yesterday named R. Eugene Gordon as ballfield leader at $80 a month; Angela G. Dougherty, playground leader, $80 a month; Homer Schadt, J. Kenneth Cross, Randolph E. Stein, playground projectionists, $40 a month; Charles A. Shultz, field custodian, $30 a month; Cleo Rice, ticket seller at Penn Avenue field, $2 a session; Norma Wallace, regular checker at Constitution Park pool replacing Patricia L. Huffman, $65.80 a month; and James Bean, lifeguard at the park pool, $120 a month.

Council authorized Mayor Roy W. Eves to execute an option with the Federal Government whereby the city will receive a rebate on certain properties acquired by the city for flood control and toward which the government will make a contribution.

The situation was explained by City Attorney Thomas B. Finan who said the amount involved is about $26,840 and the government wants the matter closed before the end of the fiscal year. The option is necessary so portions of the properties on Water Street and certain parcels in Ridgeley, may be designated as federal acquired.

Meanwhile, council approved acquisition of Ridgeley properties for flood control from the following: Arthur C. Galford, Lee E. and Fannie P. Swick; Daniel E. Snider and Grace L. and William W. Legge.

WSCS To Meet Here Thursday

Cumberland Sub-district will be host to a meeting of Hagerstown District, Women's Society of Christian Service, at 10 a. m. Thursday in Central Methodist Church.

The opening devotions will be conducted by the societies from Mt. Pleasant and Pleasant Grove churches. Featured at the morning session will be a report on the Jurisdiction School of Missions, held at Goucher College, by Mrs. H. E. Nicholson, of Brunswick.

Following a box luncheon, the meeting will be resumed in the form of group discussions by the various departments and a work shop.

District officers expected to attend include Mrs. R. W. Young, of this city, vice president; Mrs. H. V. Bender, of Flintstone, promotion secretary; and Mrs. Robert B. Huyett, of Hagerstown, recording secretary.

Lakes Remain Full

Lake Gordon is two inches above the crest of the spillway and Lake Koon one inch above, a report by C. L. Brotemarkle, assistant superintendent of Everts Creek Water Company, showed yesterday. Water consumption for the week ending Sunday was 85,430,000 gallons compared to 92,320,000 the same period a year ago.

The "Babe's" Own Story

Mildred Didrikson Zaharias, greatest woman athlete of all time, tells her amazing story

Ben Hibbs, editor of the Post, says, "You'll meet here one of the warmest human beings you've ever read about—a woman who would make great copy even if she were not the world's greatest woman athlete."

"I like Babe's picture of the modest home where seven little Didriksons practiced weight lifting. Like the yarn about Babe's first trip away from home. And I admire Babe's story of that day in '53 when she learned she had cancer."

"The Babe is quite a gal. I commend her to you."

First of Its Happy Owners!

The Cadillac you see in the picture has just started out on Mission Number One: to make its first owner and his family members of the happiest motoring fraternity in the world—for as long as they wish.

And then it will be ready for Mission Number Two: to do the same thing for its second owner. And so on, in turn, for its third owner and its fourth—and, mayhap, for an almost indefinite number of others.

In fact, a Cadillac just about refuses to give up, if it is treated fairly and driven with common sense. Even after the body has ceased to exist, the heart of a Cadillac often beats on.

You can see those tough old engines and chassis everywhere. Maybe you'll see one supplying the power for a country sawmill . . . or pulling a plow . . . or serving as a truck, with an improvised body. Give it regular, decent care—and a Cadillac chassis is all but indestructible from normal usage.

Of course, as the purchaser of a new Cadillac, you would not expect to utilize more than a minor portion of this ability to serve. You would look forward to changing models from time to time, in order to enjoy the benefits of styling and engineering advancements.

But what carefree and satisfying performance this quality foretells for the period during which you would expect to keep the car! It is the world's best guarantee of the first owner's satisfaction.

All this, of course, is just one more solid reason for owning a Cadillac—in addition to such obvious reasons as beauty and luxury and pride of ownership.

Better come in today—and be the first of a Cadillac's proud and happy owners.

Miss Mary Murray, district deputy, officiated, and accompanied at the piano, Miss Loretta singing, "The Rosary."

Marking the organization of the court, June 27, 1920, with Miss Nellie Kean, first grand regent, the dinner program opened with the singing of the national anthem by Miss Lois Nehring, with James Burns accompanist. Rev. Lawrence Landrigan, chaplain of the court, offered the invocation. Mrs. McCleary extended the welcome and Mrs. Mary Shaffer Jones, charter member and a past grand regent, served as toastmaster. Mrs. Marion Brown, state regent, was guest speaker. Brief remarks were given by Rev. John U. Lyness, assistant pastor of St. Patrick's Church; W. E. Neus, grand knight of council 586, K of C; Donald Murray, faithful navigator of Chief Justice Taney General Assembly; Roy W. Eves, mayor of Cumberland; Mrs. Elizabeth McLean, Mrs. Cecelia Albright, past grand regents; and Miss Margaret Buckley, vice supreme regent.

Musical numbers included "Salve Regina," anniversary song and "God Bless America," by the group; "Danny Boy" and "Melody of Love," by Miss Kenny; and piano selections by Mr. Burns. The program closed with benediction by Rev. Lawrence Landrigan, pastor of St. Mary's Church.

Charter members present were Mrs. Albright, Miss Beaurie Dougherty, Mrs. Margaret Fleckenstein, Mrs. Sylvia Mattingly, Mrs. Mary Kenney, Miss Kenney, Mrs. Anna Lee, Mrs. McCleary, Mrs. Lucille McGeady, Mrs. Helen Stapleton, Mrs. Kathleen Madden, Mrs. Shirliff and Mrs. Martha Byrns. Past grand regents attending were Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Nora Fleming, Mrs. Frances Cavanaugh, Mrs. Lee, Mrs. McCleary, Mrs. Lenore Fochtman, Miss Kertzner, Mrs. Albright, Miss Doll, Mrs. Shirliff, and Mrs. Caroline Ruppert. Mrs. Marie Victory, Mrs. Gertrude Garvey and Mrs. Fleming, past state regents were also honored. Other state officers present were Miss Florence Winter, Mrs. Eileen Fisher, Mrs. Ellen Coxen, Mrs. Helen Stucklen, Mrs. Louise Restican, Miss Ruth Thomas, and Miss Martha Regan.

There were 118 members and guests attending.

Because of July 4 holiday, the next business session will be July 11.

Bake Sales Planned By WSCS

The Murley's Branch Women's Society of Christian Service met recently at the home of Mrs. Homer Willison, at which time Mrs. Eston Heavner reported that the youth group will hold a festival July 1 at 6 p. m. at the church, "rain or shine."

Roll call was answered with each giving a Scripture verse. Each secretary gave her report. Mrs. Justin Heavner discussed the Children's Day program, and plans were made for a bake sale the first Saturday of each month. It will be held at Kolb's Hardware and Service Center, Flintstone.

Mrs. Homer Willison reported a large supply of used Christmas cards to be sent to the children's home in Jamaica. Mrs. Paul Robinson named Edith M. Carter as the missionary of the month. Mrs. Marshall Wilson Jr., asked for cookies to take to the Asbury Home, Gaithersburg. The session closed with benediction.

Devotions were under the leadership of Mrs. Paul Robinette, using for her theme, "The Purpose and Emblem of the WSCS." She used a picture of the emblem and each part was discussed: the triangle by Mrs. Eston Heavner; the name, Mrs. Ora Thompson; the fifth statement, Mrs. Homer Willison; the two hemispheres, Mrs. Justin Heavner; the outer circle, and wreath of the old world laurel, Mrs. Thomas Robinette.

Prayer was offered by Mrs. Robinette, and there was silent meditation and prayer for Mrs. R. L. Wittig, vice president, who underwent an operation. Mrs. Loyd Twigg read the Scripture. The group sang, "Where He Leads I Will Follow," dedicated to Mrs. Dewey Weicht, who also is ill. Mrs. Robinette also explained the society and evangelism and stewardship.

Two new members were welcomed, Mrs. Thomas Robinette and Mrs. Loyd Twigg. Refreshments were served and secret sister gifts exchanged.

Pleasant Grove Homemakers will meet tonight at 7:30 in the home of Mrs. Harry Northcraft. Miss Dorothy Northcraft will be cohostess.

Mrs. Levens Heads Club Family Picnic To Be July 17

The Newcomers Club installed officers, and completed plans for a family picnic at a luncheon meeting Saturday, in the patio of the Cumberland Country Club. Mrs. Ben Chamberlin, retiring president, officiated at the installation.

Mrs. Loy Levens was inducted as president; Mrs. Carlton Brinsfield, vice-president; Mrs. Joseph Shaffer, recording secretary; Mrs. James Sunderland, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Richard Gesser, treasurer. Mrs. Chamberlin presented each officer with a corsage.

Mrs. Levens named the committee chairmen for the coming year. Mrs. Frank Leger, co-chairman with Mrs. Brinsfield, program;

Mrs. William Leeson, hospitality; Mrs. Ernest Abbott, publicity; Mrs. Henry Tubbs, book club; Mrs. John Olwine, hostess; Mrs. Robert Franklin, co-chairman with Mrs. Lawrence Dehn, ways and means; Mrs. James Price, sunshine; Mrs. Harold Fretwell, Christmas fund; Mrs. Vincent Finan, membership. Mrs. Abbott, retiring vice-president, presented Mrs. Chamberlin with a crystal and silver bon dish on behalf of the officers and club members, as a token of their appreciation for her service to the club as president during the past year.

The club will hold its annual family picnic July 17 at Minke's Cottage Inn. Mrs. Brinsfield will head the committee in charge of arrangements, assisted by Mrs. Tubbs, Mrs. Gesser and Mrs. Finan. The next meeting of the club will be in September. The card groups will continue meeting during the summer.

Bridge was played during the afternoon. Prizes were won by Mrs. C. W. Whetzel, Mrs. Abbott, Mrs. Hawkins and Robert Webster, Jr.

Reports were given on the festival held recently, at the meeting of the Double M. Club's June meeting at Constitution Park, in the form of a wiener roast. It was voted to give a sum of money to the church building fund.

Walter Maxey announced the Galician service to be held at Swager's dam, New Germany, by the Sub District Young Adults.

It was decided to have the next meeting July 17 at Dan's Mountain Recreation Area and will be in the form of a picnic supper for members and their families.

Others attending were Mrs. E. F. Stewart, Mrs. Walter Maxey, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hawkins, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Baker, Mrs. Donna Easton, Mr. and Mrs. John Groves, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Zucker, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Webster, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Thompson, Edward Hawkins and Robert Webster, Jr.

Work Progressing On College Avenue

FROSTBURG — Chelsie Liller, contractor for the repaving of College Avenue from Bowery Street to Water Street announced the completion of the laying of black top from Bowery to Maple streets. This phase of the work has been pushed in order to cooperate with the Baltimore Contracting Company who want to close Park Avenue so work can proceed with excavating for the two new residence halls directly across Park Avenue.

The Mayor and Council have given permission to close Park Avenue. Traffic in that area will use College Avenue to Maple then detour on Taylor Street to either Bowery or Broadway.

Cumberland Included In Plans For Getting Required Personnel

MARTINSBURG, W. Va., June 20 (AP)—This West Virginia Eastern Panhandle-City has made its bid and feels it has a pretty good chance of getting the State's 167th Fighter-Bomber Squadron which must move from Charleston.

The Air National Guard squadron is being converted to jet aircraft and needs a field with longer runways than are available at Kanawha Airport.

West Virginia Air National Guard spokesmen have said the squadron will definitely move because it would be impractical to lengthen the runways at Charleston's hilltop field and Beckley's Raleigh County Memorial Airport has been listed as a possible new home for the squadron.

But Col. Kemp McLaughlin, commander of the State's Air National Guard, says "several sites" other than Beckley are being considered and Martinsburg is definitely in the running.

Col. McLaughlin, who has made several visits here in the past two months, has met with the mayor and city council and directors of the local Chamber of Commerce.

He told Mayor William H. Peery that Martinsburg "has without a doubt the finest airport in West Virginia."

Both the chamber and the council, as well as Mayor Peery have gone on record in letters to McLaughlin urging selection of Martinsburg for the squadron's new home.

The colonel said a team of Army engineers will be here soon to make a field survey, similar to one made in Beckley.

Col. McLaughlin said last week that neither he nor other officials in the State have anything to do with the choice. He said the final decision rests with the National Guard Bureau in Washington, and probably would be governed by how much money it has and how it wants to spend it.

He said the Beckley airport has been favored but there are indications the cost of lengthening the runways there would be too high.

The Martinsburg Airport, somewhat of a white elephant in that it has never been used to capacity, has two 5,000-foot paved runways.

Conversion for jets would call for lengthening them by 2,000 feet of pavement and 2,000 feet more of sod for an overall length of 9,000 feet.

Col. McLaughlin told city officials the federal government already has allocated several million dollars for such work in West Virginia. The decision on where to spend it probably will come in late August or early September, the air guard commander said.

Martinsburg would have to provide the additional land needed and Mayor Peery estimated it would cost $50,000 to $60,000. He and the city council and the chamber of commerce have guaranteed the land, if Martinsburg is chosen for the squadron.

The squadron would need approximately 500 part-time personnel, including 50 officers and Col. McLaughlin has urged interested former military pilots—jet experience is not necessary—and jet engine maintenance men to indicate their desire for joining such a unit.

He said the personnel would come from areas within 75 miles of Martinsburg which would include Berryville, Winchester and Front Royal, Va.; Cumberland, Hagerstown and Frederick, Md., and nearby areas of Pennsylvania, as far east as Chambersburg.

Social Security Payments For Survivors Explained

EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the third in a series of articles prepared to help acquaint farmers and farm families with their rights and benefits under the Social Security program.

In addition to being a retirement program, the Federal insurance system also provides payments to families of deceased insured persons. Farm families will now have this same protection that has been provided to the families of workers in commerce and industry.

As was mentioned in the article telling of retirement benefits, the exact amounts will depend upon these two things:

1. The monthly or annual rate of earnings under the Social Security insurance system, and
2. How many persons are eligible to receive payments as survivors of the deceased insured person.

The table below gives several examples of payments possible to varying sized family units for different selected earnings figures:

EXAMPLES OF MONTHLY PAYMENTS FOR SURVIVORS OF INSURED FARMERS OR FARM WORKERS

Average Earnings After 1954	65-year-old Widow, 1 child, Dependent	Widow and one child	Widow and 2 children	Widow and 3 children
$ 600 a year	$30.00	$ 45.00	$ 50.00	$ 50.00
900 a year	34.00	62.00	62.00	62.00

Flintstone Class Of 1935 Holds 20th Anniversary

Banquet At School Features Reunion

FLINTSTONE—Flintstone High School Class of 1935 held a 20th reunion, Saturday, June 11 at the school. A country style dinner with covers laid for 21 was served by members of the Future Teachers Club in the new home economics department. Miniature diplomas were used as place cards and garden flowers were used for a centerpiece.

Husbands and wives of classmates were guests as well as Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Roland, Flintstone and Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Atkinson, Frostburg. Special recognition was given to Sgt. and Mrs. John Smith, Indiantown Gap, Pa. who came the greatest distance to the reunion and who also have the youngest child; Mr. and Mrs. George Smith, Artemas, Pa., the first couple of the group to be married and have the oldest child; Mr. and Mrs. Alston Mallow, Flintstone, who have the largest family and to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Athey and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Robey who both have families of all girls.

Each class member briefly reviewed the years since graduation and Leo Chaney, Hagerstown, led the group in reminiscence of school days. A eulogy in memory of the only deceased member of the class, Mrs. Elsie Mowen Blum, was given. A diploma of appreciation was awarded to Mrs. Elsie H. Roland, Flintstone School principal and she spoke to the group about present school projects and aims. Mrs. Atkinson, faculty advisor for the Club which served the dinner, told the class that proceeds from the dinner would be used for the Future Teachers Loan Fund.

Letters were read from four members unable to attend the reunion; namely, Captain J. Harold Ash, stationed in Japan; Mrs. Elsie Stuckey Rowley, Coca, Fla.; Mrs. Elizabeth Collier Woods, Va.; and Mrs. Grace Potts Wadsworth, Columbus, Ga. The Class decided to meet again in 1960 for their 26th Anniversary. The evening concluded with a tour of the recently completed addition to Flintstone High School.

Committee in charge of arrangements for the reunion were Mrs. Hazel Fisher Oster, Mrs. Thelma Ryan Gordon, Mrs. Hilda Wentling Robey and Walter W. Athey.

Others attending included Paul Oster, Homer Robey, Martin M. Gordon, Linda Robey and Ruth Elaine Robey.

Church Grooms New Minister

KEYSER — Members of Grace Methodist Church held a reception Friday evening at the church for their new pastor, Rev. S. A. F. Wagner and Mrs. Wagner. Lester Oates was master of ceremonies introducing the various heads of departments who spoke a few words of welcome. Rev. Charles W. Paskel, pastor of First Methodist Church, Keyser, and his wife, were special guests. Rev. Paskel gave a welcoming talk and said he is glad to renew his friendship with Rev. Wagner, whom he has known for some time.

Those making short talks included, John Rice, president of the Board of Stewards; Raymond Murray, past president; Ward Daugherty; Miss Alma Peters, superintendent of the Primary Department; Mrs. Ervin Bane, superintendent of the Junior Department; Miss Nancy Belle Kempfer, head of the Youth Department and advisor to the MYF; Jerry Fraley, president of the MYF; Harry Reese, head of the Adult Department; Mrs. A. V. Gallion, on behalf of the WSCS and Ora Simmons, for the Men's Bible Class.

Rev. and Mrs. Wagner made brief talks.

Mrs. Russell Arnold, president of the WSCS, presided at the punch bowl, assisted by members of the WSCS. Decorations were in a summer motif.

War Bride Held In Shooting Of Her Husband

KINGWOOD, W. Va. (AP)—The war-bride widow of a Preston County farmer was held in county jail here today in connection with the rifle slaying of her husband.

Sheriff Ross W. Schooley said Mrs. Odett Rodeheaver, 28, was being held without charge. Her husband, Stanley Rodeheaver, 35, was found shot to death Sunday night in his home near Hazelton, about 20 miles north of here.

A West Virginia University pathologist, Dr. M. L. Hobbs, reported after an autopsy conducted yesterday that Rodeheaver had been shot in the lower right chest with a small caliber rifle.

Sheriff Schooley said Rodeheaver was married in France in 1945 while in the service. Mrs. Rodeheaver came to the United States a year later.

The couple had four children, ranging in age from eight years to six months. Prosecutor James T. Dailey Jr. said.

Probe Underway Of Route 40 Shooting Spree

No charges have been filed yet pending further investigation of a wild shooting spree by two men on U.S. Route 40 near Gorley's Lake Sunday night which injured two Allegany County residents.

Sheriff Jacob Echard of Fayette County, Pa., said the two gun-wielders, William W. Jackson, 59, of Denver and Samuel P. Johnson, 39, of Houston, Texas, were being held in Uniontown in the county jail where charges are expected to be filed today or tomorrow against the pair who took potshots at passing automobiles on the highway.

The two men were in a panel truck parked off the highway and fired upon at least 11 cars which passed by "within a matter of three or four minutes," the sheriff said, adding "traffic was exceptionally heavy at that time."

Lyman M. "Bill" Zeller, 32, Cumberland Street, was treated at Memorial Hospital yesterday for glass and metal splinters in his right arm, head and right leg. A bullet struck his windshield as he and his family were returning from a visit with relatives at Hopwood, Pa.

Mrs. Zeller, the former Billie Molinari, said the bullet missed her husband's head by a fraction of an inch and when the glass cut his head she at first thought he had been shot. She was riding in the front seat of the car while the couple's two children, Sandy, 12, and Debbie, 4, were in the rear seat.

Paul Kiddy, 25 Broadway, Frostburg, was driving to Detroit where he is employed by the Budd Wheel Company when the incident occurred. Nine other cars were struck by bullets during the melee with one man being struck in the neck and arm.

Kiddy was treated at a Uniontown Hospital and then decided to return to Frostburg as he didn't feel like continuing the trip after such a harrowing experience.

Constable Earl Savage, of Wharton (Pa.) Township, and a friend,

Lloyd T. Kerr, were returning from a mountain visit when they came on the scene of the shooting. Savage was able to halt the truck and as he approached the truck one of the men threatened to pull a gun on him, police said. Savage then disarmed the two men and handcuffed them. Both are now in jail in Uniontown.

Constable Savage said the side of the panel truck bore this printed matter: "Hoodlums may be identified by their use of a bright focus light in use of car horn to signal the pack yellow curs always run in packs. Hoodlums are traitors to the American way of life. Deport these hoodlums back to where they came from—will have 99 per and Col. Elmer Munshower, head of the Maryland State Police, to take a hand at top level in this dispute. Using mature judgment and forbearance, certainly these two men can resolve the trouble, not only to the satisfaction of both agencies, but, what is more fundamentally necessary, in the interests of more efficient law enforcement.

Makes Accusation

The differences gained the public eye last Friday night when Maj. William H. Weber, acting superintendent of State Police in the absence of Col. Munshower, accused the federal agency of being uncooperative.

He said two agents at FBI headquarters in Washington had refused to run tests on evidence in two criminal cases for Maryland State Police because of differences between the two departments.

D. K. Brown, agent in charge of the Baltimore FBI office, replied that State Police had shown a "lack of cooperation" and "no affirmative evidence of a desire . . . to correct the situation."

Munshower, who is recuperating from injuries suffered in a fall during the winter, said he would trace the origin of the trouble and "see if this thing can't be straightened out."

Old Export

the beer that's

BREWED A LITTLE AT A TIME

Western Maryland's most popular beer

It's a clever wife that keeps her husband happy when he's working around the house. But actually, it's an easy thing to do—if you've got Old Export on hand! For here's a beer—that by all odds—is his favorite.

The reason for Old Export's wide popularity can be summed up in one word—taste. It's brewed a little at a time—many times a day—never in big batches. This brewing process—though costlier—makes sure you get the same goodness in every bottle of Old Export you buy.

So, if you want a beer that's different—and the difference you want is good taste—then the beer you want is Old Export. Try it!

Of course it's different

... it's

A Speed-Up Program For Gifted Students

Are the final years of high school really necessary for the gifted student? Does he actually do class work requisite to success in college? Or are those years needed as part of the important process of maturing?

Some years ago, the University of Chicago and St. John's College at Annapolis thought that there were exceptional students who not only failed to profit by the last year or two of high school, but actually were being hindered.

Psychologists long have pointed out that failure to provide stimulating work for such pupils often led to their downfall, that some became lazy and others sought mischief to occupy their minds. Thus, not only were these students being hurt, but the entire community was being robbed—perhaps forever—of talent that could be harnessed for some good.

Four years ago, the Ford Foundation, to which most of Henry Ford's fortune was transferred to avoid confiscatory inheritance taxes, took up the challenge. Working with a dozen colleges and universities, the foundation granted scholarships to more than 150 outstanding youngsters. The first real results are now being tabulated. Performances already disclosed tend to prove the point.

In general, these younger graduates did better academically than their classmates (at Goucher College, five of the nine elected to Phi Beta Kappa were "early starters"). They carried more than their share of extra-curricular activities. And they were as socially adjusted and emotionally stable as the best of their class.

The 650 other "early admissions" now in college, screened the same way as their history-making predecessors, presumably will write similar chapters in the annals of education. Those in closest contact with these gifted youngsters—the teachers themselves—speak most highly of them and recommend that the program continue.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky
In The Agony Columns

The London Times, as everybody knows, publishes really top news on its front page—it is a melange of want ads and agony aunts, all mixed up, but always read. For years, I have looked for the advertisements of Kirkland Bridge Church Restorations Ltd. I must confess that often I have thought up a column from its inspiration. The writing is masterly.

On the verge of the recent election, Kirkland Bridge produced an advertisement which contains this unbelievable paragraph:

"We must learn to work again—if I dare whisper that robust word 'work' in these days of full employment—yes, you heard George, I said work—plain, hard, eight-hours-a-day honest work; we have forgotten how to sweat; why, last week when 194 miners were threatened with dismissal, they increased their output from 10 to 80 tons of coal per day; and in one week produced as much coal as they had done in the previous two months. Try and find me a short-hand-typist whose best friends are not her eraser, powder-compact, and wrist-watch—What about holidays?—Time off for the hairdresser?—Do you work Saturdays?—Juniors, clerks, drivers, domestic helps, waiters, chefs, painters, skilled and unskilled workers—it is the same tale everywhere. The blunt fact is that with full employment and the millions-to-one chance of winning the Treble Chance too many of us are clock-watchers, tea-makers, and waiters-for-pay-day; working at the rate of thirty minutes an hour we are being paid at the rate of 60 minutes work an hour — and then grumble at the cost of living."

The world is much the same, operating on the law of supply and demand. In England, they have a tea break and we have a coffee break when all the boys and girls quit for conversation and refreshments. Maybe it breaks the monotony but it is not pushing the job.

The 40-hour week will soon be reduced to 30 and perhaps that is why there are so many accidents on the road. What do people do with all the hours they have to do nothing? Perhaps they go in for "Do It Yourself" or they play Hi-Fi recordings or they just sit around and yap until their talk gets them into a fight and they end up in a separation.

Of course, the vogue of the soft-shelled book, which is bought in the drug-store and on the news stands, developed as the hours of leisure increased, but so did juvenile delinquency take on its present sinister forms. If parents are not bogged down with long hours of labor, why cannot they take better care of their children? Have they lost the art or do they no longer know what to say? It is not enough to talk of the birds and the bees; it might be of some avail to speak of God's moral law if one can think of that.

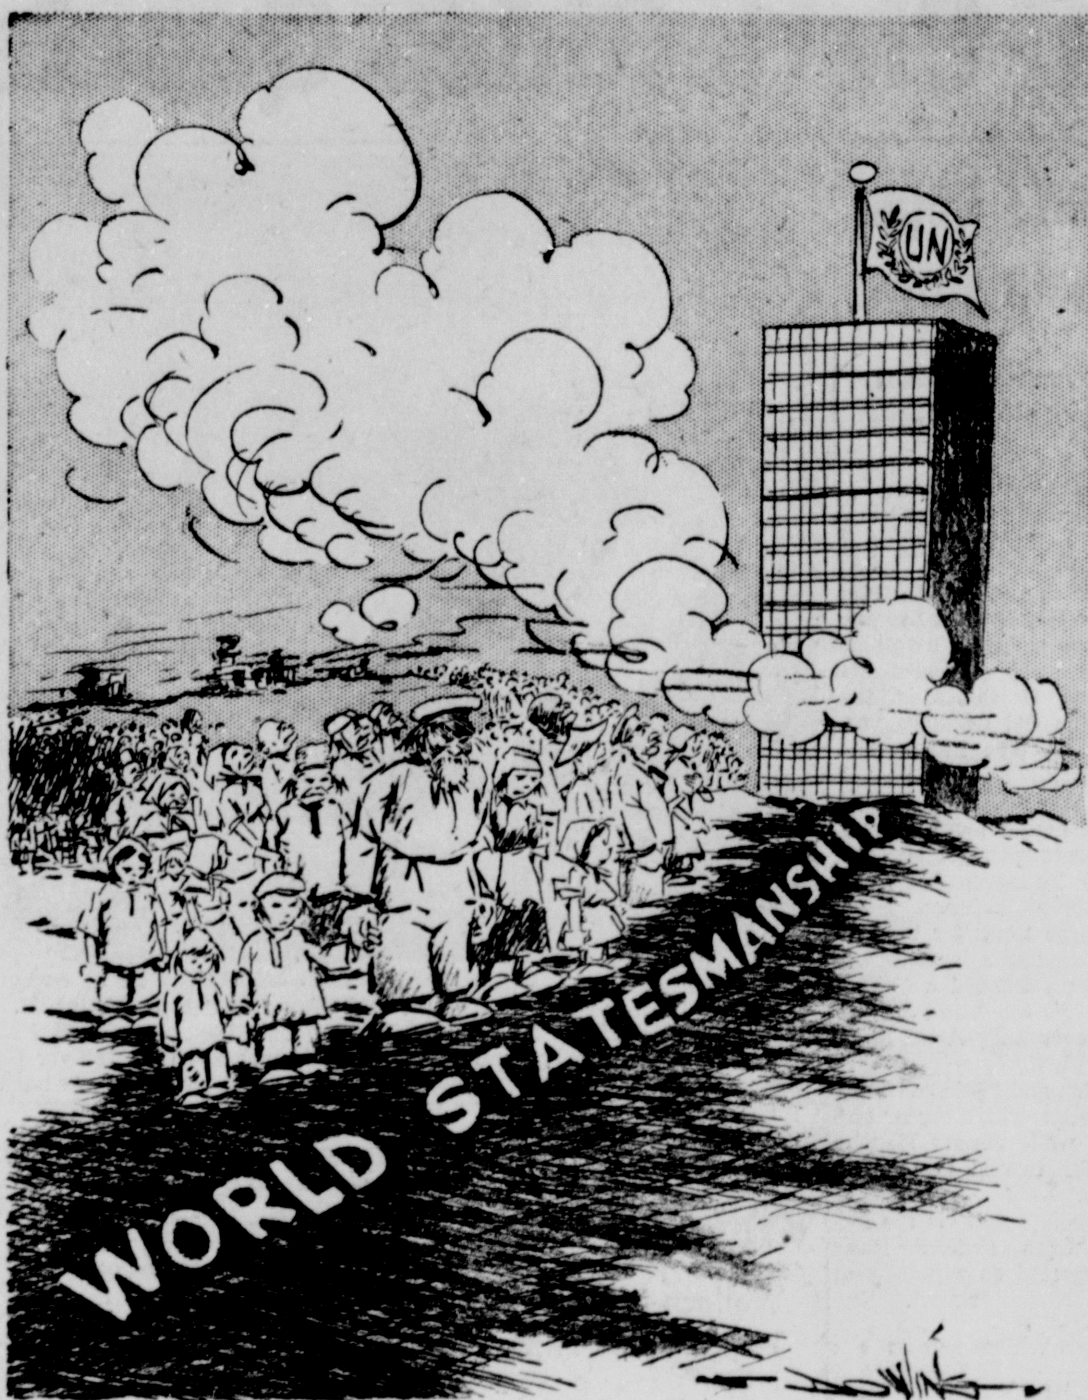

Over in England, they wondered about leisure and what would become of the morale of a people with so few hours of work for their daily bread. I can still recall when there was leisure because there were no jobs and what did we do with leisure then? Nobody really worried about the evils of leisure when a worker had all day off because he had no work to do. Why are we so frightened by it now?

And is it really necessary to sweat? Let the machine sweat. Robert A. Taft used to say that it was the particular mark of capitalist progress if men produced more by less work at higher pay. For that, he was called a reactionary although it seemed to me that the history of liberalism is the advance of all mankind from the clod who labored from sunrise to sunset for a bare living to the leisure classes which are served by mechanical slaves while all men and women become philosophers and poets.

But they do not want to be philosophers and poets. They want to be what they would have been if they worked 12 hours a day. They want to watch somebody else be a philosopher and poet and songwriter and singer and dancer and all the things that come on television. Who can really say what is the correct use of the leisure for another man?

Still Carrying The Hopes Of Humanity

Molotov's U. N. Chair Should Be Declared Empty

By David Lawrence

SAN FRANCISCO—We sat here 10 years ago—many of the same writers, many of the same statesmen, when the United Nations was born of a great hope that mankind might develop a conscience and abandon bloodshed as a means of settling international disputes.

We are here again but this time there are some empty chairs—some of them we shall not miss and some have left an indelible impression. And there is one chair some of us wish were empty for it is occupied by an international figure whose record as a master of intrigue and duplicity in the last 25 years has no parallel in history.

But, first, the men we miss—the late Arthur Vandenberg, and Anthony Eden, then foreign secretary but now prime minister of Great Britain. It was the kindly, thoughtful, practical, unpartisan senator from Michigan who managed to contribute to the charter of the United Nations its most useful article whereby any dispute anywhere in the world may be brought up for discussion at any time—an indispensable instrument for the mobilization of moral force.

No British Discord Then

Then there were the private chats some of us had with Anthony Eden who today is absent because he has become prime minister of Great Britain. One night he talked eloquently about American leadership and sounded a warning that we must not let down our guard where Soviet Russia was concerned. How prophetic were his confidential comments!

Clement Attlee of the British Socialist party was here, too, a decade ago as a part of the British delegation representing the then minority viewpoint. His speeches were harmonious with the views of the British government. There was no discord then.

The late Edward R. Stettinius was our secretary of state—a conscientious, earnest, loyal but glib man who, when he died, still had not learned the whole story of the faithfulness of Alger Hiss—his right-hand man here.

What part Alger Hiss played at San Francisco behind the scenes, as indeed he played at the Yalta conference, will probably never be known, but Stettinius in his book of memoirs published in 1949 says Hiss "performed brilliantly throughout the Dumbarton Oaks conversations, the Yalta Conference, the San Francisco conference, and the first meeting of the United Nations Assembly in London."

Many references to Hiss occur in other parts of the book, especially as to the influence of Hiss in connection with the problem of the veto and voting procedure at the United Nations. It was Hiss who sat behind the late President Roosevelt at the "Big Three" meetings and at almost all the conferences with the Russians at Yalta.

But as the record of intrigue in world affairs is examined, it is Molotov who takes the prize as the arch-conspirator of all times. When he resided here 10 years ago as one of the co-chairmen of the first United Nations meeting he already had double-crossed friendly governments and allies. Since 1945 he has played an even more treacherous game.

Record Partly Forgotten

Many people have forgotten the record of the man with whom the foreign ministers of Great Britain, France and the United States will again attempt to do business this very week.

Through the spring and summer of 1939, Molotov kidded Eden along about the possibility of making a mutual defense treaty between Britain and Soviet Russia, but at the same time the Soviet conspirator was secretly negotiating with Hitler. The Soviet alliance with Hitler made it possible for the Nazis to turn toward the West in September 1939.

The Molotov strategy, however, was not to honor the agreement with Hitler, but to grab off chunks of territory—Latvia, Estonia and Lithuania—with which countries the Soviet Union also had non-aggression treaties. Molotov wasn't satisfied with a piece of Poland. He wanted territory from Finland and, under Stalin's guidance, was reaching into the Balkans for more territory when Hitler couldn't stand it any longer and decided to defend himself against a faithless ally.

Molotov and Stalin went into the war in 1939 to enlarge the Soviet empire, and joined the Western powers in 1941 only to defeat Hitler in order to get an even greater sphere of influence in both Europe and Asia.

The doublecrosses by Molotov in the period since the close of World War II are too recent to dwell on here. The record shows that in diplomacy he is unscrupulous, that his pledges are meaningless and that he reflects accurately the Communist philosophy which justifies deceit and treachery as a means to an end. His chair should long ago have been declared empty—and the United Nations then would today stand for a great moral principle instead of a frustrated hope.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Senator McClellan is asking Mr. Dulles to keep a warm spot in his portfolio for the senator's warnings on the China trade.

He says our allies are handing us the lip service of a Ubangi giving out with the Bronx cheer.

They're playing both ends against the middle like a hootch dancer at the Chicago midway in 1932.

Mercantile regattas of our supposed allies ran up a score of 160 freighters in January. This flotilla of commercial argosies builds Red China up like an otter in the state fish hatchery.

These fleets are convoyed by those indomitable destroyers, stockpile, profit and quick turn-overs.

The boats are not carrying chop suey from Newcastle nor dress patterns for paper dragons. They're packing hard-shelled battle confetti of all calibers.

We've lost the business like a fellow with a squirrel ranch in the petrified forest. Up until 1945 China was our best customer for buggy whips, high button shoes and billiard chalk.

It's okay to do business during alterations. But this operation is like cutting off your ears so you can take your collar off easier.

When we were fighting in Korea the good-neighborly armada kept priming the North Koreans with guns, food and ammunition. It was like trying to fill a 16-cylinder jalopy at a gasoline pump with its motor running.

Senator McClellan is chairman of an investigating committee that's as impartial as a fat boy at a smorgasbord table.

But when all has been said and done about the matter the report will be flying at half-mast on a parliamentary spindle.

All investigations are over when the committee reports progress.

Cut Back Calories, Build Up Vitamins In Summer

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Summer is the time to cut down on calories. The weather man will supply us with heat so that it won't be necessary to eat to stay warm. To put it another way, we can keep the grate aglow in hot weather but there should be no flame. With the temperature on city streets or in urban areas registering in the 90s, we may with profit bank our internal fires and exist for a while on liquids and light foods.

The season offers an ideal opportunity for reinforcing our vitamin supply because fresh fruits and vegetables are loaded. Crisp, clean salads with greens and uncooked fruits attract not only the eye but the taste buds. Milk and its products, especially cottage cheese, offer excellent sources of protein and calcium.

Small helpings of cold roast beef or meat loaf will lighten the meal. These foods, along with whole wheat bread, eggs, butter, and ice cream will provide for our energy demands.

There is no objection to iced drinks. The man or woman with a sensitive or irritable stomach or intestine should sip them slowly so that they will be warmed slightly before being swallowed.

In this way the internal membranes are not shocked by the cold. Drinking freezing liquids may be followed by intense pain. This is a reflex warning that the stomach has been subjected to gross abuse.

Our fluid allowance should be far higher than in other seasons because of increased loss of water via evaporation from the skin and lungs. Perspiration is a continuous process and, in addition to fluids, solids such as salt also are lost. Almost everyone is familiar with the ill effects of too much sweating and know that extra salt must be taken to guard against heat stroke on torrid days.

A five-grain tablet two or three times a day is sufficient but it is easier to step up the salt intake at meal time. Shake salt freely over celery, tomatoes, and corn on the cob. With this plan, that "all gone" feeling may not appear at the end of the day. In cooler weather this sensation usually is counteracted with tea, coffee, or a cocktail.

A word of caution is necessary for those who follow a low sodium diet under doctor's orders. Be more lenient during hot weather and increase the salt intake should weakness, nausea, loss of appetite, or muscular cramps develop.

These are early signs of sodium depletion syndrome, a dangerous condition when allowed to continue. Moreover, substitutes such as K salt, Diet Savor, Co-Salt, Adolph's, or Noortaras are available for those who must restrict ordinary table salt.

TOMORROW: Factors in underweight.

A RADIATOR

M. W. WITTES: I have been fluoroscoped 265 times and X-rayed 26 times during the past five years because I developed tuberculosis. Now, whenever I put a thermometer in my mouth to take my temperature, the mercury splits or drops down farther to the bottom. I have asked two doctors whether this curious thing could be because my body has absorbed so much radiation from the above mentioned tests but they did not know. I would appreciate your thoughts on the subject.

REPLY

I asked a few competent specialists in X-ray about this and they do not think there is any connection between your tests and the behavior of the thermometer. Your instrument may be faulty.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

White House Is Not Getting Careful Checks On Some Top Appointments

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — It looks as if the White House is getting a bit lax in securing FBI reports on certain vitally important appointments to high office before making them.

In recent weeks it's been revealed that John Brown of Houston, Texas, appointed to the U. S. Court of Appeals, Fifth Circuit, had been severely rebuffed by the court on which he was supposed to sit; also that ex-Congressman John S. Wood of Georgia, appointed to the Subversive Activities Control Board, had been a member of the Ku Klux Klan and had let his congressional office receive a $1,000 fee for introducing a private bill.

On top of this, it has just been revealed that the FBI began only last week to check on Ike's new appointee to the Atomic Energy Commission, Allen Whitfield, the appointee in question, was designated by the President on March 17, yet the FBI began checking his record only during the first week in June.

Meanwhile here is part of the record of the man appointed to the Atomic Energy Commission, one of the most important posts in the nation.

Bank Stock Zoomed

Whitfield, a go-getting, likable Des Moines attorney, active politically in the Eisenhower campaign, had been appointed trustee in 1937 for the will of the late R. A. Crawford, chief owner of the Valley Bank and Trust Company of Des Moines. With him as trustees were the late Frederick M. Morrison and the late James A. Howe.

Crawford willed his stock in the Valley Bank and Trust, after his wife died, to Drake University, the Methodist Hospital, the Des Moines Children's Home and the Piney Woods School in Mississippi. But it ended up not in the hands of these institutions but being purchased by the trustees.

It was a very profitable buy. For the Valley Bank and Trust today has a capitalization of $1,000,000, $27,000,000 in deposits, a surplus of $500,000 and profits of about $600,000.

Today also, Whitfield controls the bank as the largest single stockholder—869 shares. Yet he and the other trustees were supposed to pass this stock along to Drake University, the Methodist Hospital and the other institutions.

While it is true that the trustees of these institutions agreed to sale of the stock at what now appears to be a low price, and while Whitfield was in the armed services during part of this time, nevertheless he signed the final trustees' report and OK'd the acts of his co-trustees. Senate investigators have also run across evidence that he knew exactly what was going on even though away.

Senators Probe

As a result, Sen. Clinton Anderson of New Mexico, chairman of the Joint Atomic Committee which must pass on Whitfield's confirmation, has written Whitfield a letter asking about certain chapters in his career. One question the senators want answered is whether his purchase of the stock was not a breach of fiduciary relationship.

They also want to know whether any effort was made to get an appraisal on the Valley Bank stock before it was sold. Investigation so far indicates there was none. The senators also want to know how much Whitfield profited personally from a deal in which he was a trustee.

The Senate committee already has information that he received real estate fees from the sale of the Valley Bank building, plus a retainer from the bank. His own shares of bank stock also increased from 150 to 869, partly through purchase, partly through split stock.

Another question asked by Senator Anderson is whether Whitfield and his co-trustees zealously guarded the rights of Crawford's widow. The evidence obtained by Senate investigators shows that on November 9, 1943, Mrs. Crawford was paid $15,000 in cash plus an agreement to pay her $9,000 a year. Since she was then 93 years old, this could not have meant an outlay of any great amount of money. As a matter of fact, Mrs. Crawford died six months later.

In return for this small payment to the widow, Morrison and Whitfield took over any rights she had to the stock.

There ensued meanwhile a hassle with Drake University, the Methodist Hospital and the other charities, during which various petitions were filed by the university and the hospital disputing the right of Whitfield, Morrison and Howe to pay themselves certain fees. On July 15, 1940, Drake University and Methodist Hospital filed an objection to paying the trustees more than $2,772.

The institutions filed objection after objection, until finally they sold the stock to Whitfield, Morrison, and Howe for approximately $225,000, considered a low price.

Complicated Deal

The method of paying for the stock was involved and interesting. Morrison and Whitfield had formed a side company called the Valley-Des Moines Company, which owned the building of Valley Bank & Trust. So Morrison arranged with this side company to get the money with which to purchase the Valley Bank and Trust stock from Drake University and the others. Then he assigned the stock to the Valley-Des Moines Company with an option to buy it back in five years at a stated price of $135 a share.

This was in 1943. In 1947 he bought it back at this price — $135 a share—though the FDIC in 1947 listed the stock as worth $356 a share and in 1948 at $574 a share.

By this time, Drake University, Methodist Hospital, and the others no longer had any claim on the stock, but some of the stockholders in the Valley-Des Moines Company, including Ethel F. Metcalfe, filed a "notice" that they intended to file suit requiring the Valley Bank and Trust stock optioned by Morrison to be divided among other stockholders instead of sold to Morrison for a song.

At this point, Whitfield and Morrison moved in and quieted the complainants by purchasing their Valley-Des Moines stock at the generous value of between $700 and $800. After that the suit was not brought.

These are some of the intricate investigating deals which senators do not believe were arm's-length transactions and which they do not consider in keeping with the qualifications of one appointed to the Atomic Energy Commission.

NOTE — Sen. Bourke Hickenlooper of Iowa and top Iowa Republicans, while not publicly critical of Whitfield, have not been enthusiastic about his appointment. The Des Moines Register-Tribune, chief Republican spokesman for Iowa, published a masterful analysis of his banking transactions. The appointment is chiefly credited to Bernard Shanley of New Jersey, one of Ike's top aides in the White House who met Whitfield during the 1952 campaign.

Creaking Cartel

By Bob Considine

NEW YORK, June 20 (INS)—Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick has retained a polling organization to conduct a survey of what's ailing the grand old monopoly. High time! Any other cartel that creaked as baseball has been creaking of late, despite federal aid in the form of a tongue-in-cheek Supreme Court ruling saying it is played only for sport, would have called for a pulmotor long before.

The people to be questioned in this survey are sportswriters. This seems a wrong approach at the very start. Sportswriters don't pay to get into the ball park. Most of them go because it's their job. The fan, whose opinion isn't going to be asked, is the bloke Frick is trying to lure back to the walled pastures. He doesn't often see eye to eye with the sportswriter, and vice versa, so I can't see what will be proved exactly. The sportswriters have been telling Frick what's wrong with baseball in millions of generally well-choiced words for years. All he'd have to do is to look in the back files. Or in today's papers.

The first question is "if you could cover and write about one sport only, would it be baseball?" There is a "yes" box underneath, a "no" box and an empty. I'd have to fill the empty with "it all depends." Sure, it's stimulating to be with a winner. But few working newspapermen are more likely to go to see than a stiff stuck with a chronic second division team. More often than not he becomes as much of a cabbage head as the average player on the team itself. He lives in a realm of empty ballyards, dreary defeat, chronic incapacity, soggy morale. He moves about the country like a sixth rate salesman trying to sell a product nobody wants. And let's have no lip about this. I traveled for years with the Washington Senators.

Second question—"Check the following ideas which you think would serve to improve the game and build attendance." There is a list of ten. But I'd check "shorter games, faster paced" and "better parking facilities" and "easier ways of getting good tickets."

Ford asks if radio broadcasts of baseball have increased interest.

Of course not. The game was built on such gusty sands. Clubs should do everything they can to stimulate personal and team rivalries. Who do you want—Burt Shotton or Leo Durocher?

Fearless Ford asks "Do you think that the baseball commissioner's office and league offices are doing 1) a good job; 2) a fair job; 3) a poor job; 4) no opinion?"

A pretty good job, but room for much improvement. The business of baseball is still conducted in many parts of the country with all the salesmanship flair surrounding an Ozarks' crossroads store on an Ozarks' backroads. There is too much of "well, it's the only wheel in town" philosophy; much too much self-satisfaction and the assumption on the part of officials that they are rendering a great civic service by staying in business and charging exorbitantly for uncomfortable seats. More use should be made of the stars during the off-season. They should be put on salary by the commissioner's office and sent into the hinterlands to fire the imagination of a fandom that is yawning most ominously.

Hi Noble Wins Fairgo 6th, Clark Rides Quartet Of Winners

Six Favorites Score On 5th Day Of Meet

C.P. Chenoweth Leads Trainers; Wagering Now Is Up $19,399

Hi Noble registered a six lengths' triumph over Madam's Hunter in the featured sixth, Willie Clark, the Mt. Holly, N.J., jockey, performed the feat of riding four winners, Charles P. Chenoweth saddled two victors to grab the lead in the trainers' race and six favorites finished on top yesterday on Pennsylvania Day at Fairgo as first half of the Cumberland Fair Association's 10-day meeting was completed.

With Anthony Russo, of Baltimore aboard, Hi Noble, owned by E. C. Gott, Jr., of Washington, D.C., and trained by H. C. "Pete" Allnut, of Rockville, Md., covered the 6 1/2 furlongs in 1:21 2/5 to defeat Madam's Hunter and take down the major portion of the $1,000 purse in the main event on the card. The 3-year-old son of Noble Impulse returned $3.40 for each $2 win ticket. Highlea Silady took show money.

It was estimated that 4,700 persons turned out for the program honoring the Keystone State and among the guests of the local association were Mayor and Mrs. Walter H. Grove, of Altoona, and G. Stanley Ruth, executive director of the Chamber of Commerce of Pennsylvania's "Mountain City." Wagering Up $19,399

Wagering Director Bob Littleton's crew handled a total of $154,648 on the eight races and this bettered the play on the fifth day of the 1954 season by $5,078. The current meeting's handle soared to $809,868 compared to $790,469 for five days last year, an increase of $19,399.

The sensational Willie Clark had a field day in the riding department. He booted in four winners, Flemish Maid ($9.00) in the second, Good Valley ($10.00) in the fifth, Jet Joy ($7.00) in the 7th and topped off his big day by scoring with November Morn ($4.80) in the final event. The four wins boosted Clark's total to 14 for the meet, eight less than the record of 22 for ten days, established here in 1943 by Carson Kirk. He has five more days in which to equal or better the all-time riding mark at Fairgo.

Chenoweth Takes Lead

C. P. Chenoweth forged ahead in the trainers' race with a total of four winners. His third win of the season was W. F. Poole's Good Valley, a 7-year-old gelding, which defeated Tenement by 2 1/2 lengths in the fifth while his first place in the eighth when E. J. Leece's November Morn sped home ahead of Dark Warrior and Jaccodancer over the route of a mile and a sixteenth. Chenoweth's other winners were Crank Handle and Errard Lea.

Favorites continued to grab the spotlight at the local meet as they took six of the eight races yesterday and topped the average for five days past the .500 mark. The choices of the bettors that finished in front yesterday were Golden Dottie, Lochwin, Wee Dip, Hi Noble, Jet Joy and November Morn. Thus far 22 of the first choices have won in 40 races.

The W. S. Small-Mannunda Farm entry of Wee Dip and Bellurquia finished one-two in the fourth event on the card. Tony Russo rode Wee Dip and also piloted his second winner when Hi Noble captured the sixth.

Yesterday's winning daily double combination of Golden Dottie (1) and Flemish Maid (7) returned $22.60. The mutual pool was $17,185.

The first claim of the meeting was recorded in the second race when E. K. Hillman claimed W. T. Kees' Moon Over Erin for $1,000. The 5-year-old chestnut mare finished 6th in an eight-horse field.

Today has been designated as "Baltimore Orioles-Oakland" Day at the local track. Post time for the first race is 2 o'clock. EDT. Clarence W. Miles, president of the Orioles, will head a Baltimore delegation here.

County All-Star Game Postponed

The County Softball League All-Star game, set for Friday, has been postponed until Wednesday, June 22, at Corrigansville.

League teams will play their regular schedule Friday with Stringtown at the Sports Shoppe (Grimes and Garlitz, umpires) and Kennel's Mill at Mt. Savage (Snider and Schoenadel, umpires).

Arroyo Beats Phils

ST. LOUIS, June 20 (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals took advantage of an error to push across three earned runs in the fourth inning tonight to defeat the Philadelphia Phillies 4-1, as rookie southpaw Luis Arroyo scattered seven hits and batted in two runs.

Glenn Kauffman, the winningest pitcher in the City Softball League, chalked up his eighth in a row as Johnson's Grocery extended its win string to 11 games at the expense of the Old Germans yesterday at East Side Field. The score was 11-3.

Mil Dean, Don Buser and George Stevenson slammed four baggers for the Grocers who got six hits but profited by seven bases on balls and four hit batsmen. Kopp hit safely three times for the Old Germans, including a home run.

Jack Stotler fashioned a 4-hitter in twirling Hygienic Sanitation to an 11-1 win over Kelly Retail Store at Stitzer Field.

Don Madden and "Brindle" Long paced the attack with a homer and single each while Jimmy Mangus accounted for two of the losers' four bingles.

Schute's roofers won via the forfeit route from Bedford Road which is reported as withdrawing from the six-circuit circuit. The scores:

Fairgo Briefs
William "Willie" Clark, the riding sensation at the current Fairgo meeting, is not a newcomer at the local half miler. In fact, this is his sixth straight year here.

"Willie" is 34 years old and when asked how long he has been riding horses, he replied: "I've been riding all my life."

Clark's father was a breeder and owner of horses at Roxborough, a suburb of Philadelphia, and "Willie" helped to train jumpers when he was a kid in knee britches.

At the present time Clark's home is at Mt. Holly, N. J., not far from the Garden State Park race track.

When "Willie" booted home four winners at Fairgo yesterday his total hit 14 for the meeting and its his best showing since he started riding at Fairgo in 1950. He now has 55 winners here over six seasons with five days yet to go before the local meet ends. Here's Clark's Fairgo record:

Year	1	2	3
1950	8	6	3
1951	8	6	3
1952	11	6	6
1953	6	8	9
1954	10	8	3
1955	14	2	2
Totals	55	33	27

When Rosalie K and Crank Handle copped races here last week it marked the fourth time they had scored at the local half miler. Rosalie K won two races here in 1954 and one in 1953. Crank Handle won twice in 1954 and once in 1953.

Eleven of the 25 riders who got mounts during the first five days were here last year. They are Tony Russo, Donald Teague, Mike Sorrentino, Willie Clark, Lamar Bauer, Patsy Grant, Frank Law, Robert Runyon, Jimmy Baird, Jimmy Edwards and E. Josephick. There were 33 in the jockeys' colony in 1954.

Changing of Hagerstown's starting date from August 17 to 19 is under consideration but there's nothing official on it as yet.

If the Hub City opens Aug. 17 there will be four straight days of conflict with Charles Town which closes its meet on Saturday, Aug. 20. It is felt that running two days against Charles Town would not hurt as much as competing four days against the West Virginia track.

If Hagerstown does make a change its 10-day meet would end on Tuesday, August 30 instead of Saturday, August 27. Timonium opens Wednesday, August 31.

John Turner, Jr., was racing secretary at Fairgo in 1947 when 48 per cent of the favorites won. J. Fred Colwill was secretary in 1952 when the average was 47.5 per cent.

Archie Moore Is 2-1 Choice Over Olson In Wednesday Fight

Polo Grounds Will Be Site Of Title Bout

IBC Predicts Gate Of $250,000; Moore Will Make Weight

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK, June 20 (AP)—Odds favoring Archie Moore over Bobo Olson edged to 2-1 today as the light heavyweight champion predicted he would weigh "174 pounds" at the weigh-in for Wednesday's defense against the middleweight king.

Moore boxed two rounds at his Summit, N. J., camp with sparring partner Clint Baco and indicated he may box two more tomorrow, the day before his most important fight. Olson shadow boxed, laughing and joking as he tuned up on the light bag at his Asbury Park, N. J., camp in his final workout.

While the boxers worked out of town, Jim Norris, president of the International Boxing Club, predicted a gate of $250,000 or more for the 15-round match at the Polo Grounds. Norris said the advance sale was "around $100,000."

He pointed out that recent outdoor fights in New York had experienced a last minute gate rush when the fans realized they would not see the bout on television. The high for a last day sale was $162,000 for the Ray Robinson-Randy Turpin match in 1951.

Although the Moore-Olson scrap will be screened nationally (ABC) the New York area will be blacked out. There will be a network radio broadcast (ABC) with New York included.

Norris said he would meet with Al Weill, manager of heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano two or three days after the fight to arrange a September bout for Marciano. He said a Moore match would be very desirable, if Archie won decisively. However, he also claimed he would be interested in an Olson-Marciano match if Bobo "looked real good."

Louis Gets Summons From U.S. Tax Court

CHICAGO, June 20 (AP)—Joe Louis, former world heavyweight boxing champion, today was summoned to appear June 27 before the U. S. Tax Court which is seeking to collect $249,611 in income taxes.

The taxes were levied on Louis' 1946 and 1947 income.

Louis, part owner of a Las Vegas, Nev., night club, has declared he is unable to pay the taxes.

Phils Sign Hurler

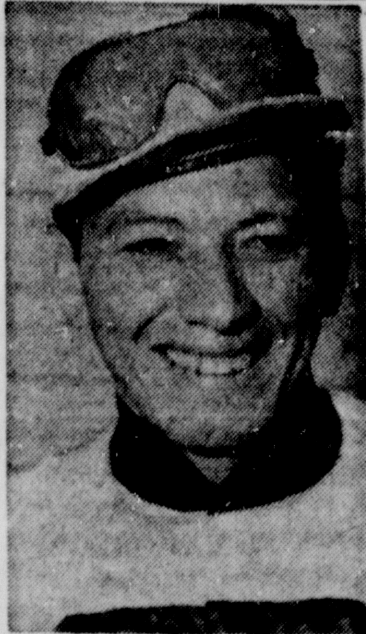

PHILADELPHIA, June 20 (AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies today signed Robert Frederick, right-hand pitching star at Cheltenham High School this spring and assigned him to Bradford of the Pony League.

Frederick, a 19-year-old six-footer, had a 5-2 season log in section one of the Philadelphia suburban high school league and was charged with only two earned runs in 51 innings. In one 7-inning game he struck out 19 batters.

COPS 5 OUT OF 6 — Fausto D. Rivera is not leading the riders at the current Fairgo meeting but his achievements have attracted a great deal of attention. During the first five days of the meeting he has had six mounts and booted home five winners. He has scored with Golden Dottie, twice, Miss Elfrieda, Dixie Rose and Flowing Sand. A native of Santurce, Puerto Rico, the 23-year-old saddlesmith started riding seven years ago. He last rode at Fairgo four years ago when he came here with Stanley Greene. Members of the jockey colony call him "Chico."

Gardnar Mulloy And Richardson Lose In England

Mottram, Davidson Top U.S. Net Stars

WIMBLEDON, England, June 20 (AP)—Sweden's slugging Sven Davidson whipped American star Ham Richardson in a rugged five set match today to lead a rout of seven Yanks on the opening day of the Wimbledon Tennis Championships.

The second prominent American to follow Richardson to the sidelines was 41-year-old Gardnar Mulloy. Mulloy of Miami, Fla., lost to Britain's No. 1 player, Tony Mottram, 6-1, 6-4, 6-1 while Richardson of Baton Rouge, La., put up a much tougher fight before losing to Davidson, 4-6, 6-3, 6-4, 4-6, 8-6.

Both matches were on Wimbledon's 14,000 seat center court.

Seeded Ranks Intact
The eight-man seeded ranks stood intact with only Lew Hoad, No. 4 ranked, and Jaroslav Drobný, defending champion from Egypt, having any real difficulty. Drobný, seeded sixth, won from Rene Buser of Switzerland, 6-3, 6-1, 6-2, despite a minor shoulder injury and appendix trouble.

Hoad, a bridegroom of 48 hours, looked sluggish and sleepy as he defeated fellow Australian, Robert Howe, 6-5, 7-5, 6-2.

Tony Trabert, the No. 1 seed from Cincinnati, using a weakly strung racket "because it is better for control," won easily from Australia's Mal Anderson, 6-3, 6-4, 6-2. Ken Rosewall, No. 2 seed from Australia, defeated Britain's G. D. Owen, 6-4, 6-4, 6-1 in a typical, one-sided first rounder.

Other seeded stars fared this way:

Vic Seixas Scores
No. 3 seed Vic Seixas, Philadelphia, won from A. J. Clayton, Britain, 6-3, 6-0, 6-0.

No. 5 seed Rex Hartwig of Australia, defeated R. J. Lee, Britain, 6-2, 6-1, 6-2 and No. 7 seed Budge Patty, Los Angeles-Paris, defeated fellow American G. W. Druliner, Los Angeles, 6-4, 6-3, 6-1.

Davidson is eighth seeded and is last year's U. S. indoor champion. Other Americans to lose in the first round of the men's singles were:

Pablo Eisenberg, Maplewood, N. J., to Steffan Stockenberg, Sweden, 6-3, 6-2, 1-6, 6-4; Don Flye, Tacoma, Wash., to Martin Hime, Britain, 2-6, 7-5, 6-1, 2-6, 6-4; Tony Vincent, Miami, Fla., to George Worthington, Australia, 6-2, 6-2, 6-1; Hugh Sweeney, New York, to Bill Seymour, South Africa, 8-6, 6-1, 7-5.

James Smithson, founder of the Smithsonian Institute, was English and never visited the United States. He left his fortune in trust to found an establishment for the increase of knowledge among men.

Ponton Is Third 3-Times Champ, Heintz Won Five

When Russell Ponton defeated C. S. "Bill" Catherman, Jr., Sunday in the finals of the spring handicap golf tournament at the Cumberland Country Club he became the third member to annex the title for the third time. Previous three-time winners were Kenneth Fletcher and George Werkmeister.

Topping them all, however, is Dr. Karl P. Heintz who has copped five spring championships. Peter E. Berry won the event four times.

Kompanek Is Hero As Dapper Giants Top Pirates In 9th, 7-6

Sonny Kompanek delivered a timely single in the 9th inning to score Billy Dean with the run that gave Manager Pat Algieri's Giants a 7-6 decision over the Pirates in a Dapper Dan League thriller yesterday at Fort Hill Field.

Kompanek won his own game with a base walkoff after a walk and hit batsman had put his team in a scoring position.

Jimmy Bittner poled two homers for the Giants, his second circuit drive tying the score in the 6th and sending the game into extra innings. Puffenberger hit a 4-bagger for the Pirates. Kean and Puffenberger, Pirates' pitchers, fanned 17, while Green and Kompanek whiffed 11. Bittner and Kompanek had three hits each for the victors while Alt led the losers with two safeties.

At Penn Avenue Field, the Athletics trimmed the Tigers, 12-3, behind the 6-hit pitching of Davis and Clark. Billy Norris had a perfect day at the plate for the A's with three hits and Mike Clark belted a 2-run homer. McKay and Peters shared four of the Tigers' six blows. Scores:

Kaline Leads All-Star Vote

Detroit Tiger Star Has 92,776 To Credit

CHICAGO, June 20 (AP)—Al Kaline, baseball's top-ranking hitter, today became the individual leader in the all-star poll.

Kaline, who plays right field for the Detroit Tigers and holds the highest batting average in the major leagues, has gathered 92,776 votes.

Roy Campanella, Brooklyn catcher, is second in individual vote totals with 90,323. Yogi Berra, New York Yankee catcher, stands third with 89,506.

The fans are voting for the players they want to start the annual game between National and American League squads. The game will be July 12 in Milwaukee.

Browns Sign Groza For Eighth Season

CLEVELAND, June 20 (AP)—The Cleveland Browns today signed veteran tackle Lou (Golden Toe) Groza and Fred Morrison to 1955 contracts.

Groza, starting his eighth season with the pro football club, led the Browns in scoring last season with 84 points. His coach, Paul Brown, and many others in the grid world regard him as the greatest place kicker in history as well as an outstanding defensive tackle.

Morrison, although he was rated as a substitute last season, was the Browns' third-ranking ball carrier with 254 yards in 52 attempts.

ATTENTION RACE FANS

The demand for parking space within the Fair Grounds has far exceeded expectations. It has been necessary on occasion to divert some cars to the parking area to the left, below the main grounds. The Fair Association sincerely regrets this inconvenience. Plans are now being made to provide next year 5 acres of additional parking space within the main grounds. In the meantime your cooperation and assistance in helping us with the present parking problem will be greatly appreciated.

Yanks Sign Schoolboy

WARWICK, Va., June 20 (AP)—The New York Yankees have signed David (Red) Irb, star Warwick High School shortstop, to a Winston-Salem (N.C.) contract in the Class B Carolina League.

Irb, an 18-year-old June graduate who also played three years of American Legion junior baseball, received a bonus of $4,000.

The six-foot, 175-pounder was sought by six other major league teams.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our beloved Mother, Sarah Mildred O'Neil, who passed away 6 years ago, June 21, 1949. Our family circle broken, still it's bond of love shall keep, Holding the faith that Mother taught, Before she went to sleep; Knowing that He who tends his flock, Shelters her with His sheep, Sons, Donald & William.

Md. Firemen Meet Opens Tomorrow

Sessions Slated At Guard Armory

Past presidents of the Maryland State Volunteer Firemen's Association will meet at noon today in Sheehee's Restaurant for their annual get-together and the dinner will be a forerunner of the 63rd annual convention which opens here tomorrow.

Among the past presidents will be Cromwell C. Zembower, of LaVale. He and Nelson W. Russler, of Chapel Hill Hose Company, are convention co-chairmen.

This afternoon at 4 o'clock, the state officers will meet in executive session at LaVale Fire Hall. State officers and auxiliary unit officers as well as committee chairmen will attend a banquet at 7:30 p. m. today at LaVale Fire Hall.

Registration Set

Registration of delegates to the three-day convention will get underway today at noon at the National Guard Armory, headquarters for the sessions. The telephone number at the headquarters is 7364. The Housing Committee will be on hand to give information to the many firemen who are expected to attend.

Registration will continue tomorrow from 9 a. m. through 2 p. m. The Allegheny-Garrett County Volunteer Firemen's Association is host to the convention.

Among the top state officials and fire fighting experts who will speak during the convention will be U. S. Senator John Marshall Butler, Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin, State Comptroller J. Millard Tawes, Dr. Wilson H. Elkins, president of the University of Maryland; Speaker of the House John H. Luber, Baltimore, and Sherley Ewing, director of the State Civil Defense agency.

Plan Parade Friday

The firemen will hold their sessions in the Armory while the Ladies Auxiliary Units will meet in City Shrine Club.

The initial business session will begin at 2 p. m. tomorrow with a call to order by State President John W. Smith. The address of welcome will be given by Mayor Roy W. Eves with the response by Tawes, a past president of the state association.

The convention parade will be held on Friday evening beginning at 7 p. m. Several downtown streets have been decorated by the host firemen. Merchants are asked to display flags during the three-day meeting here.

Second Person Dies As Result Of Auto Mishap

Ernest Van Pelt, 18, Succumbs In Hospital

An automobile accident which snuffed out the life of a Chevy Chase man early Sunday morning on Route 220 near Dawson has claimed the life of one of two passengers thrown from the car.

Ernest Van Pelt, 18, of RD 3, Keyser, who was injured in the accident, died yesterday about 8:25 a. m. in Potomac Valley Hospital. He sustained head and internal injuries.

Carl Elwood Critchfield, 34, of Chevy Chase, former employee of the Amcelle plant, died enroute to the Keyser hospital Sunday. He sustained a crushed skull after being thrown from the car which rolled over on him.

In fair condition at Potomac Valley Hospital is David Moreland, 18, of Rawlings, who suffered a fractured skull. State Police said lights of the auto, owned by Troy Willis Collins also of Rawlings, reportedly went out and the vehicle careened from the highway, struck an embankment, and rolled over on Critchfield.

Yesterday morning Collins and Kelly Pennington, also of Rawlings, passengers in the car, who apparently escaped injury were questioned in the State's Attorney's office here.

Both claimed Critchfield was driver of the car at the time of the accident which occurred about 1:45 a. m., a half mile south of Dawson.

The two men, who were arrested by Maryland State Police Trooper Lynwood Clark, are being held in Allegany County Jail for further questioning by the State's Attorney.

With the death of Van Pelt yesterday, five persons have been killed in a series of four highway accidents which occurred in four days.

Deaths

Bradley, Rev. Latimore, Terra Alta, formerly of Frostburg.

Granet, Mrs. Samuel, 60, Hagerstown.

Hickerson, Mrs. John A., Winchester, Va.

Stolen Bicycle Stripped

City Police apprehended two boys, age 13 and 14, who admitted having stripped a bicycle reported stolen by Mrs. Anna Miller, 318 North Mechanic Street, June 12. The boys promised to make restitution to Mrs. Miller for her daughter's bicycle which was valued at $40.

Brush Brothers Don Toppers

At their first organizational meeting in Fort Cumberland Bicentennial Headquarters last night the Brothers of the Brush donned identifying top hats which they will wear during the area celebration. Typical of the beards which the more than 300 members are sporting are these cultivated by Allen Mace, Fairgo; Edward Malloy, 521 Fayette Street; George R. Pratt, 251 Williams Street; and Charles Frantz, 518 North Mechanic Street. Activities will begin next week.

Brush Boys Bicentennial Plans Made

The first organizational meeting of the Brothers of the Brush was held last night at Fort Cumberland Bicentennial Headquarters on North Centre Street with approximately 200 persons attending the affair.

The group, composed of men who are letting their beards grow during the area's 200th anniversary celebration, made plans for a kangaroo court and torchlight parade.

Also tentatively on their schedule for activities will be several street dances, directed by the group, with a committee selected to make arrangements. The "brothers" hope to hold the first dance July 1.

A torchlight parade, appropriately named "Bury the Razor," will be held Monday. Immediately following the parade, the group will hold its first kangaroo court.

Judges selected for the kangaroo court are Casper Taylor, Anthony Struntz and Andrew Santore. Kangaroo Kops include Robert Mace, William Buzzard, James Stewart, George E. Owings, Roy Lewis, J. B. Corley, Robert Martin, Raymond Beck, Michael Birmingham, Edward Borgman, Eugene Krampf, S. P. Hook and Bruce Anderson, all of Cumberland, and Edward Snyder and R. L. McBee, Ridgeley.

The committee selected to arrange the street dances is composed of Robert Martin, Philmore Fleming, John Cook Jr., George Zegles, Lawrence Grim, C. A. Dye, Wallace Westfall and Melvin Wright.

The next meeting of the group will be held Monday at 8 p. m. at Bicentennial headquarters.

Two New 4-H Clubs Formed

Two new 4-H Club have been organized in Allegany County, according to James Weamert, assistant county agent.

James Mueller has been elected president of the Paw Paw 4-Hers with Larry Crabtree as secretary. The treasurer of the newly-formed club is Glen Crabtree.

Other members are Edward and Randall Crabtree, Jerry Platt, Wayne Ryan and Charles Youngblood.

At Midland, the Green Meadows 4-H Club has been organized with Jerry Clise as local leader. President of the group is Edward Miller with Allen Weir as vice-president.

Other officers are Ronald Fleigle, secretary, and Daniel Jones, treasurer. Also belonging to the club are Alan Clise, Johnny Clise, Gary Clise, Donald Fleigle and Richard Jones.

Sybert Asks For Top Level Talks In Police-FBI Feud

BALTIMORE, June 20 (AP)—Atty. Gen. C. Ferdinand Sybert tonight called for a meeting at the summit—between J. Edgar Hoover and Col. Elmer Munshower—to iron out differences between the FBI and the Maryland State Police.

Earlier today, Gov. McKeldin stuck an official thumb into the matter, calling for a report on the differences from State Police Supt. Elmer F. Munshower.

The governor also said he had talked with FBI officials in Baltimore and that a conference would be held in Annapolis between officials of the two law enforcement agencies following receipt of Munshower's formal report.

Sybert took cognizance of the discord in an address to the Maryland Law Enforcement Association at Ocean City. Congratulating the association on the law enforcement cooperation it has bred, Sybert said, "It goes without saying that lack of cooperation would throw us back to

Appel Resigns As Piedmont Police Chief

Spiker Is Appointed Probationary Officer

Thomas C. Appel, chief of police of Piedmont since June 1, and police officer since April 8, has resigned his position.

During a regular meeting of the Piedmont Mayor and Council last night, he said that he has been recalled to work as a brakeman for the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

His resignation, according to Mayor Rodney Baker, will become effective June 30. He told the Mayor and Council he enjoyed working as a police officer and will be willing to assist in the community if aid is needed.

Comments Appel Mayor Baker commended Appel on his police work and voiced the appreciation of the residents of the community. Charles R. Spiker, Paxton Street, 25-year-old veteran of two years in the Army, was appointed patrolman for a three-month probationary period.

He served 13 months in Korea. Other applicants were Calvin Ruble, Piedmont; Delbert L. Miller, Keyser, extra policeman in that community nine months, and John Shillingburg, of Westernport.

Hazard Is Cited Another applicant, George E. See, Paxton Street, withdrew. In other routine council business, Abe Feldstein, local junk dealer, will be held responsible for a hazardous flood condition which now exists on the Piedmont side of the old C&P Railroad span which he purchased.

It was pointed out that part of the bridge is lying in the Potomac River. The span is being razed by Feldstein, who purchased it from the Western Maryland Railway Company. WM officials as well as West Virginia State Road Commission are being contacted on the matter.

Power Saw Stolen

John Kelley, 702 Hilltop Drive, reported a $92.75 power saw stolen from the new home he is building on Braddock Road, some time Friday night. City police are investigating.

Child Injures Foot

Joanne James, seven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles James, Williams Road, lacerated the sole of her left foot when she stepped on a tin can while playing in her yard yesterday. She was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital for observation and treatment.

101 Girl Scouts Enrolled At Summer Encampment

Girl Scout camp opened Sunday at Camp Potomac near Oldtown with 101 girls and 22 adult leaders attending. This is the largest camp held by the Cumberland Council for a number of years. Last year only 60 girls could be accommodated.

The scouts this year are using the Boy Scout facility, since the state took over Green Ridge Forest, where the girls had their camp. Miss Olive Hurlburt, local Girl Scout executive said last night that the campers like Camp Potomac and are grateful to the Boy Scout Council for granting them permission to use it.

As is the custom with Girl Scouts at established camp, the girls who attended camp last year, participated Sunday night in the opening ceremony. Each year, from the last campfire at camp, some of the embers are taken from the fire and preserved. Sunday night, cold embers from Green Ridge were used to start this year's first camp fire at Camp Potomac.

As this ceremony takes place, the Girl Scouts make their wish for a happy camp.

There were 105 registered for the first week of camp, but four girls did not appear due to illness. There are some registered for one week and some for two weeks of camping, however, as the girls who are staying for only a week, leave Saturday, replacements for each of them will arrive for their week at camp. Thus, there are also 105 enrolled for the second week.

Six tents are in operation with about the same number of scouts in each unit. The unit leaders include Mrs. Elizabeth Williams, Miss Joan Hesson, Miss Norma Nelson, Miss Ann Riggelman, Miss Margaret Steele and Miss Beverly Bennett.

Counselors include Miss Nancy Long, Miss Sharon Mullenex, Miss Betty Ramsey, Miss Annette Smith, Miss Marjorie Hutcheson, Miss Verna Davis and Miss Rita McKenzie.

Miss Sallie Bowen is the registered nurse for camp. Mrs. Bonnie Calhoun is craft consultant and Miss Eleanor Minke is nature consultant. The swimming consultant is Mrs. Helen McGuire.

Cooks include Mrs. Lillian Confer, Mrs. Louisa Haugh and Mrs. Mary Radar. Charles Crowe is handyman and Miss Hurlburt is the camp director.

1,900 Enrolled At Playgrounds For Rec Program

Robert E. Pence, city recreation director, said last night that 1,900 youngsters had been enrolled on the city's 16 playgrounds for the summer activities planned by the rec department.

Yesterday was the first day for enrollment and Pence stated the most popular activity of the day was the use of the wading pools on various playgrounds. Tops for evening entertainment proved to be the showing of movies.

Pence said youngsters from 6 to 19 years of age are registered at their nearest playground to participate in various programs, such as tennis classes, golf classes, softball games, swim classes, movies, organized games and other events.

He noted that more than 5,800 persons participated in yesterday's rec department events. More family participation is on the agenda for this summer. Pence added.

Steger said the closing of the offices will be effective this Saturday and will continue until Labor Day.

Knights Templar Will Present Awards Tonight

Fifty-year jewels and honorary memberships will be presented to six members of Antioch Commandery 6, Knights Templar, during a conclave this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Masonic Temple, Greene Street.

Those who will be honored include John R. Atkinson, Charles G. Holzhshu and Archibald C. Willison, past commanders; George R. Bramble, Charles A. Feeser and Ninian U. Bond, Sir Knights.

The presentation will be made by Past Grand Commander Grant A. Wiebel. The committee in charge includes Wiebel, W. E. Langfield and Commander-elect Ralph G. Shipley.

Following the ceremony, refreshments will be served in the banquet hall with Past Commander James C. Watkins and Sir Knights Leroy M. Kimes and Robert M. Shuck in charge.

Legion Installs Officers Today

An installation of officers of Knobel Mountain Post 136, American Legion, will be held this evening at 8 o'clock in the post home in Ridgeley.

Installing officer will be Thomas Jones, West Virginia Department Adjutant. Officers of the Ladies Auxiliary Unit will also be installed.

Officers who will take over duties include Roland Showers Sr., commander; Roland Tabler, vice commander; Archie Lough, finance officer; Raymond Hershberger, adjutant.

Harry Arrington, Americanism officer; Charles Day, sergeant-at-arms; Charles Phillips, service officer; William Knierim, child welfare; William Thompson, chaplain; Fred Comer, historian and John Brehany, three-year trustee. A buffet luncheon will be served after the installation ceremony.

Hike In Water Rate To Offset Dept. Deficit

City Council Passes Boost Unanimously

The Mayor and City Council, in an effort to overcome an anticipated $100,000 deficit in the Water Department this fiscal year, yesterday increased the city's water rate and tapage fees.

An ordinance for the boost was passed unanimously and will be effective July 1 when the new fiscal year begins.

The ordinance hiked the minimum charge for each quarter for domestic, commercial or business use both in and outside the city, for water used in manufacturing or industrial processes and for water used by associations, sanitary districts, townships, municipal corporations, unincorporated villages or companies organized to distribute the water.

Arthur B. Gibson, city auditor, said the new rates would bring the city approximately $90,000 in added revenue.

Rate Is Upped $90

He explained there are over 10,300 metered minimum residential users of the city's water supply. At the old rate of $4.50 per quarter these, the city garnered some $41,200 each three months.

The new rates add $.90 to each metered customer bringing the new rate up 20 per cent to $5.40. Approximately 9,500 metered minimum rate users are in this group. Added to this will be about 800 minimum rate users who will fall into the category of sanitary districts, municipal corporations, etc., which rates are raised 33 1/3 per cent from the present $4.50 to $6 per quarter. Combined, these metered customers will net the city about $40,000 additional revenue every quarter.

At the same time the city increased its flat rate by 50 per cent in all classifications which is expected to bring in another $22,500 for the approximately 1,840 flat rate water purchasers.

Water used in manufacturing or industrial processes also was increased 20 per cent from $4.50 to $5.40. Present industrial income per quarter is $136,000 and the rate hike will bring in some $27,000 more, Gibson noted.

Tapage Fees Increased

The rate for domestic, commercial or business use outside the city where the user purchases water directly was hiked to $6.75 under the new ordinance. This will net some $1,500 more per quarter. Tapage fees were also upped. The fee will be $50 for taps in the city compared to the former fee of $10; $75 for taps outside the city; formerly $50; and will remain at $100 for taps outside the state.

The rate for water used by sanitary districts, etc., will include water up to 15,000 gallons quarterly. If the 15,000 gallon mark is exceeded in a quarter, charges will be made according to a rate schedule.

The city hopes to make up the deficit with these new rates, plus costs for water usage over the minimum rate allowed per quarter.

Operated At Deficit

During the first six months of the present fiscal year, the city spent $39,229.28 more than it took in. For the first nine months the city's net receipts from the sale of water amounted to $293,481.10, meters and taps another $7,665 and farm rents $429.10 for a total nine-months income of $301,575.20. Expenditures totaled $301,508.64 during this same nine-months period.

However, with income expected to be about $100,000 during the last quarter and expenses and debt service to total nearly $200,000, the Water Department is faced with a deficit it hopes the new rates will overcome.

Political Lines Drawn At Legion "Boys State"

ANNAPOLIS, June 20 (AP)—Teen age politicians began drawing political lines today as Boys State got under full steam here and its girl counterpart began setting up house for business tomorrow.

The American Legion sponsored Boys State held primary elections for its two make believe cities—Legion and Key—today after splitting into the Constitutionalist and Federalist parties.

Registered at St. John's College for the affair were 132 boys from across the state, and some 100 girls were registering for their meetings across the way in the Statehouse, sponsored by the Legion Auxiliary.

Today the boys heard Dr. J. Howard Beard, Anne Arundel County health officer, and The Rev. John D. Tate, pastor of Hamilton Presbyterian Church, Baltimore, speak before the party conventions got underway.

Both the boys and girls will hear talks by Gov. McKeldin in the County Control Of SRC Roads Is Discussed

Officials Meet In Baltimore

Allegheny County officials yesterday met in Baltimore with William E. Childs Jr., advisory engineer for the State Roads Commission, and presented recommendations in conjunction with a number of state roads which the SRC wants to turn over to the county.

William H. Lemmert, president of the Allegheny County Board of Commissioners, who attended the meeting, said that 19 short stretches of state road totalling 13.23 miles are involved in the proposed switch-over.

Making the trip to Baltimore yesterday were Gorman E. Getty, attorney to the county commissioners and J. Walker Chapman, county roads supervisor.

Progress Reported

Lemmert pointed out that satisfactory progress is being made with a few legal matters remaining to be ironed out. A meeting of SRC officials is slated here the week of July 27, Lemmert added, at which time further recommendations will be made to Children.

Assisting Childs with legal matters yesterday was Frederick A. Puderbaugh, counsel for the SRC. The proposed action is part of a state-wide program for exchange of roads between the state highway system on one hand and the county roads system and the city streets system on the other.

Would Up Revenues

One of the much-discussed areas which the state wants to turn over to Allegheny County is State Route 696 along Barton which is the approach to the long closed Flat Rock Bridge.

Acceptance of the 13.23 miles of road, most of which is slightly used, would give the county about $9,000 additional in gasoline tax revenue in the new fiscal year starting July 1 and larger sums each successive year.

Other areas which the state would like to transfer to county control include a stretch of old U. S. Route 40 near Evitts Creek and Naves Cross Road, old U. S. Route 40 from Beal High School in Frostburg to Eckhart, Linden Street in Frostburg to the community swimming pool, other portions of old State Route 36 and parts of old U. S. Route 220 at McCool.

Friendly Suit Will Be Filed

The city has acquired the services of Owen E. Hitchins, local businessman, to file a "friendly suit" in Circuit Court here to determine the method of procedure for the city to amend the charter under home rule legislation.

City Attorney Thomas B. Finan said Hitchins had acted in a similar capacity for the city previously and that the suit will be filed within four or five days.

Purpose of the suit, Finan said is to have the court decide which procedure is correct—that under statutory home rule or under the constitutional home rule approved by the voters last November. Procedures seem to conflict.

Council has moved to amend its charter under provisions of the constitutional home rule statute.

Postmasters Hold Seminar On Economy

New Procedures Outlined Here

Postmasters, supervisors of mail and other postal officials from all post offices in Allegany and Garrett counties, attended a seminar here yesterday, the second of its kind held since last fall.

The purpose of these periodic workshops is to discuss mutual problems and keep advised on the latest developments in handling mail, completing forms and reports, and understanding postal regulations and developments.

I. L. Penrod, district manager and his assistant Thomas McClure, both of Baltimore and representing the Washington region of the Postal Department, were here.

Outline Procedures

They outlined the new manhour procedures in effect July 1, and explained how this system will provide a uniform method of reporting man-hour usage at all points. Other forms, to be adopted with the new fiscal year, to provide uniform accounting were also explained.

Donald H. Spencer, road foreman of the Postal Transportation Office discussed irregularities noted in dispatching mail, and offered a number of suggestions to postmasters for better handling of mail. He pointed out that careful following of instructions and regulations will expedite all mail movement.

Economy Is Stressed

Millard Taylor of Washington, representing the office of the general superintendent in charge of Postal Transportation, discussed proper handling of empty mail equipment. This was of special interest to Cumberland, since this is a concentration or collection point for empty mail equipment, bags, pouches, etc., and Taylor pointed out how economies can be affected. He said that by improving methods of handling and caring for this equipment over $4,000,000 was saved last year, and more savings are possible and are desired.

Economy was the keyword of the conference, and the new regulations, the changes and the more efficient methods outlined, were all directed at the target of "more economical operation."

About 35 postal representatives from the two counties attended the two sessions of the seminar.
